END COMES FOR GOMPERS!

LABOR LEADER WINS FIGHT TO DIE ON U. S. SOIL

Stricken In Mexico, Veteran Union Chief, Rushed Over Border, Has Relapse

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 13.—Samuel Gompers is dead. The veteran labor leader, victor in his determination to make his last fight on the soil of his home land, suffered a relapse early today and died at 4:05 a. m.

Official announcement of his death was made by Chester I. Wright, press representative of the American Federation of Labor, which Gompers helped organize and which he led as president for thirty-seven years.

But a few hours before the relapse which brought his life to a close just this side of the mile post marking three-quarters of a century, the physicians attending him had issued a bulletin with a note of optimism, hoping that he might spend a comfortable night, although his condition then was regarded as grave.

Warning of Death
The first intimation that death was imminent came at 2 a. m., when members of the Gompers' party were awakened and the physicians were called in hurried consultation. His breathing then was labored and painful and his vitality low from the struggle against the bronchial and pneumonia condition which had necessitated the emergency trip from Mexico City.

At 4 o'clock William Mahon of Detroit, an official of the federation, came from Gompers' room with tears streaming down his face.

"He can't last long. It's artificial life," he whispered to another official.

Knows End Near
Gompers knew he was near death. He faced the dark prospect with the same spirit he showed when he answered the physicians who counseled against the return to the United States and were told, "If I must die, I want to die at home."

Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, sat at the bedside of the dying man.

Fully conscious, Gompers reached for Morrison's hand, and

BANDIT CAPTIVES REPORTED FREED

Eight Students and Teachers Seized in China Last Sunday Released

CANTON, Dec. 13.—The eight remaining captive students and teachers of Canton Christian college captured with thirty-two others by Chinese bandits last Sunday in the outskirts of Canton, were released today from their captivity following successful efforts of troops of Li Puh Lin, bandit suppression commander, to force the bandits out of their stronghold.

The bandits had made an ineffectual attempt to take these eight prisoners into the East river district controlled by Chen Chung Ming, a deadly enemy of Sun Yat Sen, where the Canton government is powerless to enforce its authority.

Labor Leader To Be Buried In Tarrytown

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Samuel Gompers will be buried in Sleepy Hollow cemetery, Tarrytown, N. Y., it was announced today at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor. Some time ago Gompers purchased a plot in Sleepy Hollow. As soon as word of Gompers' death reached headquarters, the entrance of the federation building was shrouded in black.

CONTEST LOOMS IN FEDERATION

Frank Morrison to Act In Gompers' Place Until Leader Is Chosen

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—One of the stiffest and perhaps the bitterest, internal fights in history faced the American Federation of Labor today in selecting a successor to Samuel Gompers. Under the constitution of the federation, Frank Morrison, secretary, automatically succeeded to the presidency, but he must call a meeting of the executive council within six days to select a successor who shall serve until the next convention, to be held in Atlantic City next fall.

The council must meet as soon as possible after Morrison's call.

Morrison Now Temporary Head of Labor Federation

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 13.—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, is ranking head of the organization as a result of the death of Samuel Gompers, according to a statement by Chester I. Wright of the Federation information bureau here today after a conference with Morrison and Vice-Presidents James D. Duncan, Matthew Wolf and Martin O. Ryan.

An executive head will be chosen by the executive council within the next few days. This office will serve until the regular session of the American Federation of Labor to be held next November.

There is at this time nothing that requires the official signature of the federation, and, therefore, no reason to hurry the selection of a new chief executive.

Matthew Wolf, president of the Photograph Engravers' union and sixth vice-president, who is here with the party, is prominently mentioned as Gompers' successor.

Suspect Arrested In Wilshire Murder Case

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—Matthew D. Decker was arrested today as a suspect in the mystery killing of Walter W. Powers, automobile salesman, formerly of Mexicali, Mexico, who was shot to death late yesterday while sitting in the fashionable Wilshire residential district.

Appropriation For Navy Cut $14,289,882

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Carrying out President Coolidge's demand for reduced expenditures for military purposes, the House appropriations committee today brought out a naval appropriation bill for the fiscal year 1925-26 carrying a total of $14,289,882 less than the amount spent on the navy this year. The proposed appropriation for next year is $290,485,578.

LOCAL ELEVEN VICTORIOUS IN CLASH

Fleaweights Recover Fumble By Huntington Park, Making Touchdown

BULLETIN
Glendale Union High school fleaweight football team won the Southern California championship today by defeating Huntington Park 7 to 0 in a hard-fought game at Patterson stadium, Occidental college. The only score of the game came in the first quarter when Glendale recovered a fumble and took the ball across the goal, converting.

In a preliminary skirmish to the Southern California class A semi-finals between Glendale and Orange High heavyweight football teams, the Glendale fleaweights took on Huntington Park's 110 pounders in a clash to determine the championship of the tiny division at Patterson stadium, Occidental college, at 12:15 today.

Both little aggregations were confident of victory and went in to the fray with a determination to fight to grim death. Officials who handled the game were Blair, referee; Burke, umpire; and Evans, head linesman. Coach Eugene Wolfe of the Glendale aggregation declared his charges to be in first-class condition and ready for the struggle.

FIRST QUARTER
Lovell kicked off for Glendale, the ball going over the goal line. Huntington Park's ball on the 20-yard line. Matthews made five yards on an off-tackle play. F. Chinn, on a line buck, failed to gain. Sunderland recovered Sargent's fumble on the Huntington Park 25-yard line. Killinger made two yards on line buck. A

UNCLE SAM VISES JAP AMBASSADOR

Orients Submit Name of Possible Appointee for U. S. Approval

TOKIO, Dec. 13.—The name of Tsuneo Matsudaira, recently appointed Japanese ambassador to Washington, has been submitted to the American government to determine whether he is persona grata in Washington, according to a story printed in the Kokumin Shinbun, Tokyo newspaper, today. As soon as a reply is received from the United States the foreign office will make the formal announcement of his appointment.

EIGHTY SAILORS BELIEVED KILLED

No Hope Held Out for Crew Of Ill-Fated Japanese Warship Aground

TOKIO, Dec. 13.—Eighty members of the crew of the Japanese battleship Kanto, which went aground off the Northwestern coast of Japan yesterday, are probably dead, according to advice today to the Yokosuka naval station in Yokohama bay. Forty other men are believed to be alive and safe, the advice said. There were about 157 men aboard the warship. Rescue ships are endeavoring to pull the Kanto back into deep water. A terrific blizzard is handicapping all rescue efforts, however, according to reports to Yokosuka.

Plot To Kill President Of Cuba Revealed

HAVANA, Dec. 13.—A plot to blow up the presidential special train on which the president and his cabinet and Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the American Monument commission were en route to Santiago for the unveiling tomorrow of the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial, was believed frustrated today when a bomb was discovered on the track over which the train was to pass. The bomb was picked up by a track inspector and report of the incident was made to state officials here.

DREXEL DIVORCE DECREE DIVULGED

Cruelty Charges Brought by Wife of Philadelphia Millionaire In Reno

RENO, Nev., Dec. 13.—Elizabeth Thompson Drexel is divorced from John R. Drexel, Jr., Philadelphia millionaire, today, following a decree granted her here yesterday on charges of extreme and repeated acts of cruelty. The hearing of the case was behind closed doors, but it is said there was no sensational testimony.

Mrs. Drexel charged her husband with an erratic and dominating disposition and that he allowed her no independence. She further testified he showed great harshness toward John Drexel III, their son, and that at one time her husband struck her with his fist.

A property settlement is understood to have been made out of court. Mrs. Drexel was awarded the custody of her son.

INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR'S MAILING 29 PERCENT

Holiday Business Growth Is Displayed In Receipts, Officials Declare

Contrary to reports to the effect that poor Christmas buying was being reflected in postoffice business, figures for the first ten days of December, released by Assistant Postmaster George Hallett today, show that business at the local office has increased 29 per cent over that done last Christmas time.

Receipts for December 1 to 10 amounted to $8844.86, as compared with $6844.87 for the corresponding period of 1923. This is a gain in dollars of $1999.99. During the first four days of this week 1219 sacks of outgoing matter were handled at the office.

Efficiency System
Despite the growth in business over a year ago, parcel shipments have so far been handled from the Glendale postoffice without a single delay or tieup. This is due to the fact that fifteen windows are in operation at present, whereas only five were available in the old postoffice building during the Christmas rush of 1923.

Many new clerks have already been added, and it is contemplated increasing the extra help list to sixty persons before December 25. Last year the highest mark reached was fifty extra workers.

Special Post Terminal
Starting Monday morning, a special parcel post terminal station to handle all incoming packages will be put into operation, with a large staff to handle the work. All incoming packages will be delivered by carriers direct from this terminal instead of passing through the central office.

Assistant Postmaster Hallett warned that no packages will be delivered to individuals at the terminal, however, so that there will be no seeking entrance to the building to make any such inquiries.

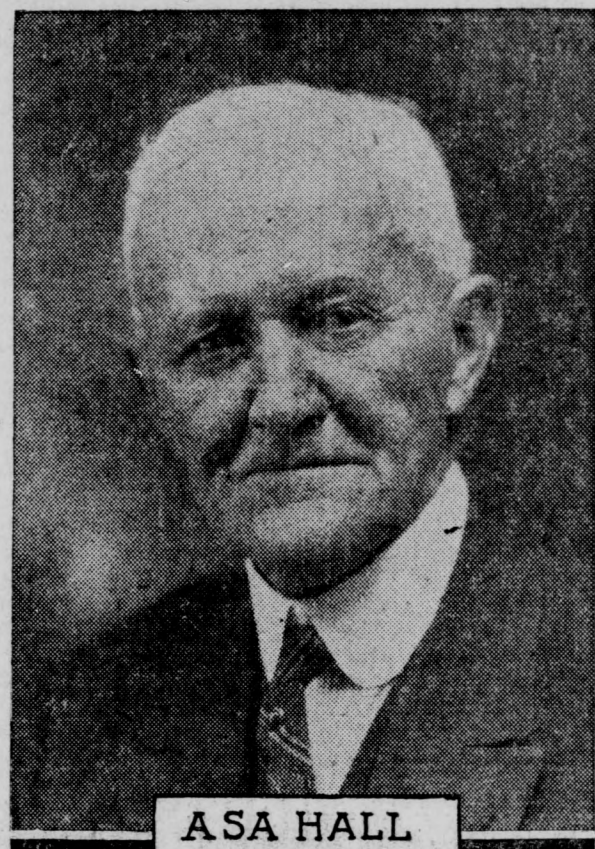

"Don't let anybody tell you Christmas business isn't good in Glendale," said Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. "Anyone taking a look at these figures representing the work we are turning out can have no doubt as to whether business is good or not. People are sending 29 per cent more presents this year than last, and they have to buy them, that's a cinch."

Police Boats Lay Net For Six Bank Bandits

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 13.—H. M. C. S. Patricia and numerous police boats from Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo and other points joined today in a search of the Gulf of Georgia, and all available men watching likely landing places on the gulf and sound for six bandits who got away from the Royal bank, Nanaimo, with $40,000 Friday afternoon.

Official's Career Closes

ASA HALL, member of the Glendale City Council, who died suddenly at his home, 636 North Louise while in the bath tub. He was discovered by his wife. Heart disease is announced as the cause of his death. The city charter authorizes the City Council to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of Councilman Hall.

ASA HALL

GLENDALEMAN IS STRICKEN SUDDENLY AT HOME

Passes Away From Heart Disease In Bath Tub; Noted as Accountant

Asa Hall, member of the Glendale City Council, died at 12:15 o'clock today at his home, 636 North Louise street. He was stricken without warning, in the bathtub, and death is believed to have been instantaneous.

As he fell back he struck his head on the tub. Mrs. Hall, hearing this sound, entered and found him there. A physician was called and he was pronounced dead. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

Councilman Hall was 80 years old on November 6. He was elected to the council in April, 1923, for a four-year term. No decision has been reached regarding the appointment of a successor, according to Councilman S. A. Davis, a close friend of the deceased. The City Council, under the city charter, has the power to fill the vacancy on the council.

Councilman Davis was one of the first to come to the house, after hearing the sad news. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, was also one of the first to be with Mrs. Carrie W. Hall, the widow, in her bereavement. Councilman Hall was an elder in this church, and prior had for some years been an elder in the Immanuel Presbyterian church of Los Angeles.

Deputy L. A. Auditor
The deceased had been a resident of Southern California for thirty-five years, coming to Los Angeles from Chicago in 1889. Three years later he bought an orange ranch near Azusa and organized the first orange growers' association. For many years he served the city of Los Angeles as a deputy auditor and was noted for his ability with figures. He came to Glendale in 1921.

For a number of years Mr. Hall was president of the Glendale Citrus association and was a director in the Azusa-Covina-Glendale Fruit exchange. The citrus association he organized in Azusa built two packing houses before the Pacific Electric railway came through that section.

One of the important duties Mr. Hall performed in his position as deputy auditor was to compile the annual auditor's report, which neither Auditor W. C. Mushet nor his successor, Auditor John S. Myers, ever saw until it was published.

Such was the high character of this report that it received very favorable mention from the

TRAIN ACCIDENT BLAME IS FIXED

Coroner's Jury Places Equal Responsibility on Both Lines for Crash

OAKLAND, Dec. 13.—Responsibility for the train accident on the Key Route pier last week, which resulted in the death of nine persons and the injury of thirty-five others, rests squarely upon the Key Route system and the Sacramento Short Line in equal measure today, following a verdict to this effect returned by a coroner's jury here late last night.

The accident occurred December 4, when an electric Short Line car telescoped a halted Key Route train on the deep water trestle of the Key Route pier. The coroner's verdict reads in part:

"We are not able to fix the responsibility for this fatality from the evidence presented, the motorman of the Short Line not being permitted to testify; but it is our belief that both railroad companies and Motorman Brubaker of the Short Line train are equally guilty of the negligence which resulted in this accident."

The next official inquiry will take place Monday, when the Alameda county grand jury will conduct its investigation.

Army Transport Docks From Philippine Island

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—The United States army transport Thomas arrived here today from the Philippines with 147 first-class passengers, sixty-seven second cabin and 572 troops. Among the passengers were Major-General George W. Read, recently retired after having been in command of the Philippine department of the army, and Colonel Henry E. Eames, who is coming to the United States for a four-months' leave of absence.

The Thomas was the second army transport to arrive in San Francisco in two days. Yesterday the transport Cambrai arrived here from Honolulu with eighty-two first cabin passengers, thirty-seven second cabin and 545 troops.

BURY PLANE VICTIMS

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 13.—The navy today buried its dead—four victims of the ill-fated H-16, seaplane, which fell into the ocean off Point Loma Wednesday noon. The body of the fifth victim, Lieutenant K. H. Boby, has not been recovered, and is probably buried in the briny deep.

ENGLISH PONDER OVER WAR CLAIM

Foreign Office Hesitates To Answer U. S. Note On Debt Payment

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The foreign office was undecided today whether it will reply to the American note on the subject of war claims or allow the discussion to rest until the financial conference in Paris in January.

Great Britain is gratified at the courteous tone of the note, it was said at the foreign office. The British view, nevertheless, is stronger than ever that America has no right to demand payment of war claims through the Dawes plan, it was said. If America is to collect its war claims, the collection must be made from sequestered German property, it was said, unofficially.

TELLS CODE OF RECREATION ACTIVITIES

National Association Has Approval of Numerous Leaders in Country

Some 3,300 leaders in American life have signed a statement of twenty-one fundamentals in community recreation, made public by the Playground and Recreation Association, of America.

The fundamentals are based on the association's experience of eighteen years, during which the number of cities having organized recreation has increased from forty-one to 680. One hundred and twenty-five college presidents, thirty-seven labor leaders, and numerous manufacturers, governors, senators, mayors, authors and prominent women have signed the code. Persons of all occupations, diverse political affiliations, and various religious beliefs have given their approval. The fundamentals are as follows:

Complete List

1. That in nearly every community with a population of 8,000 or more, there is need of a man or a woman who shall give full time to thinking, planning and working for the best possible use of leisure hours of men, women and children.

2. That community leisure time programs should continue throughout the entire twelve months of the year.
3. That it is the responsibility of the entire community to maintain recreation opportunity for all the citizens and that there ought, therefore, to be, as early as possible, support of the recreation program through public taxation under some department of the local government.

4. That there should be in every state a home rule bill which will permit the people of any city or town to make provision under their local government for the administration of their community recreation.

5. That there is need in every community, even though the municipal recreation administrative body be most effective, for private organization of citizens in their neighborhoods to make the fullest use of the facilities provided, to make sure that what is being done is meeting the deeper needs of the people of the neighborhood.

6. That the emphasis ought to be not only on maintaining certain activities on playgrounds and in recreation centers but also and definitely on the training of the entire people in leisure time activities, so that within the home, at the church and throughout all natural, human relationships there shall be the best opportunity for wholesome good times.

7. That the purpose in training children and young people in the right use of leisure ought not to be merely to fill up the idle hours, but also to create an active, energetic, happy citizenship.
8. That even though the beginning of a city or town recreation program be children's playgrounds, other features ought to be added progressively from year to year until music, dramatic activities and discussion of public questions, training for more intellectual use of spare time, and other valuable activities have been included, so that all ages and all kinds of people may find vital interest.

9. That every boy and every girl in America ought to be trained to know well a certain limited number of games for use outdoors and indoors, so that there will never be occasion for any boy or any girl to say that he cannot think of anything to do.

10. That most boys and girls should be taught a few simple songs, so that, if they wish, they may sing as they work or play.
11. That all employed boys and girls should have opportunity in their free hours to enjoy companionship and wholesome social life.

12. That through the community recreation program every boy and girl should come to appreciate the beautiful in life.

13. That adults, through music, drama, games, athletics, social activities, community and special day celebrations, should find in their common interests the opportunity for a common community service.

14. That every new school built ought to have a certain minimum amount of space around it provided for the play of the children.

15. That nearly every new school building ought to have an auditorium preferably on the ground floor and should be so constructed that it is suited for community uses.

16. That if a suitable meeting place for community groups is not available in the schools or elsewhere, a community building should be provided through community effort.

17. That each child, under 10 years of age, living in a city or town should be given an opportunity to play upon a public playground without going more than one-quarter mile from home.

18. That every community should provide space in sufficient area for the boys of the community to play baseball and football.

19. That every boy and every girl ought to have opportunity, either on his own home grounds or on land provided by the municipality, to have a small garden where he may watch the growth of plants, springing up from seeds which he has planted.

20. That every community should provide opportunity for the boys and girls to swim in summer and, as far as possible, to skate and coast in winter.

21. That in new real estate developments of five acres or more, not less than one-tenth of the space should be set aside to be used for play just as part of the land is set aside for streets.

Mayor Robinson Issues 'Messiah' Proclamation

Upon motion of the Glendale City Council, I, Spencer Robinson, mayor of Glendale, do hereby declare Tuesday night, December 16, to be "Messiah Night." Let every citizen who loves the sublime and uplifting Christmas thoughts and the grand inspiring music of this great oratorio, lay aside worldly cares and hear this wonderful masterpiece to be given at the Broadway High school. Let us all attend and listen to the beautiful story of the birth of the Prince of Peace in song and chorus, thus receiving full inspiration for the Christmas season, commemorating the birth of Christ.

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of Glendale.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Dec. 13.—P. J. Blake and Clarence C. Buck were released president and secretary, respectively, of the Tujunga Valley Realty board at the annual election this week. A. D. Kirschman was elected first vice president and Earl Neumire second vice president. A membership has been conducted this week to enroll every realtor and salesman as members and business men as associate members. A branch of the organization is devoted to home owners in which the principal object is the improvement of home property with a view of sustaining and increasing realty values.

Next Monday the Service club of Tujunga will meet at the Community church at 7 p. m., for the purpose of organizing the relief work the club will do among the needy persons. In addition to dispensing Christmas cheer this year, the newly organized club will represent the various clubs and organizations of the community in distributing help where needed during the coming year. By co-operating with the Service club the other organizations expect to give a maximum of assistance where it is deserved without duplicating or overlooking anyone. Plans have been made for handling Christmas baskets filled by means of the money raised by the costume ball given Friday night.

Tujunga lodge, F. & A. M., Monday night will put on the first degree, and invite brother Masons to attend.

Mrs. Stella Holgate of Alhambra recently spent a brief vacation in Tujunga, where she owns property.

The J. O. C. class of the Community church will hold an executive meeting Tuesday afternoon, December 16, 1:30 p. m., at the home of the first vice president, Mrs. A. L. Jones, 349 Greeley avenue.

The date of the regular meeting has been changed to Saturday evening, December 20, at the home of Miss Adair of Stevens Way.

Though the expression has not been made audible, "Marcel, long may he wave" no doubt expresses the sentiments of a large number of Tujungans who are commending, publicly and privately, Marcel X. Dumas for his activities regarding a zoning ordinance for Tujunga, in which it is proposed to prescribe certain institutions as undesirable in certain districts. The zone regulation would be aimed primarily at tuberculosis sanitariums, of which there are a number operating in the community.

Mr. Dumas sought to have passed an ordinance prohibiting the establishment of sanitariums in the North Sunset boulevard district and discovered that a zoning ordinance of drastic import had been passed last April without the general knowledge of the residents of either Tujunga or Sunland, both of which communities are included in the zone. No one seems to know who instigated the prohibitory regulation or how it got on the books without even the press being aware of the move.

The original ordinance prohibits brick yards, lumber yards, cabinet factories, machine shops, canneries and other businesses in practically the entire Tujunga and Sunland sections, from the Big Tujunga wash to the Verdugo range and from La Crescenta to the Los Angeles city limits. Several prominent men, including H. H. Brett, president of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, have expressed the opinion that a zoning ordinance is desirable if of sane quality, but find the existing regulation so drastic as to be laughable, if it were not a really serious matter for Tujunga. Some of the residents are apparently much agitated over the zoning subject and many debates have been held. Wide interpretation has been given the description—"undesirable institutions"—private opinions varying extensively.

The health protection problem was given official recognition by the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce at the last meeting, when a resolution was passed protesting against the maintenance of tuberculosis in Tujunga by the county.

George Slusher, pioneer colonist of Tujunga, in commenting on the muddled state of affairs relative to the government of Tujunga by the county officials, said in an open letter to the public:

"Let us take heart. Sunland may incorporate, taking in part of what is called Tujunga, and if we are careful not to give too much offense, perhaps, in a few years, they will permit the balance of Tujunga to become annexed to them."

Mr. Slusher was one of the principal figures in the early development of Tujunga when the town was called Little Lands, operating the first store on a community ownership basis. He finds material for considerable mirth in the present situation, he says, and says the county supervisors "seem

Additional minutes of the City Council, in session Thursday, December 11, follow:

Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale adopting a certain diagram on file in the office of the city engineer of the city of Glendale exhibiting the assessment district for the improvement of Ardmore avenue and other street," which was read and on his motion seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2686, and adopted.

Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale," showing plan, profile and cross-section for improvement of Bruce avenue," which was read and on his motion seconded by Councilman Hall, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2687, and adopted.

Councilman Hall introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale declaring its intention to improve portions of Bruce avenue, Glenwood road and Eighth street, within the said city," which was read and on his motion seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2688, and adopted.

Councilman Hall introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale finding and determining that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale, of a sanitary sewer for said city of Glendale, and the acquisition of rights of ways or easements over, in, upon and across the real property herein described, is necessary therefore, and directing the city attorney to bring and prosecute an action in the superior court for the condemnation thereof."

Glendale Republican club will hold a reception and dinner Thursday night, December 18, in the guild hall at St. Mark's Episcopal church, South Louise and East Harvard streets, followed by a Republican rally, with speakers, at Harvard High school. R. S. Person, president of the Republican club, announced that he has completed plans for the occasion. The reception and dinner will be held from 6 to 7:30 o'clock. The reception will be from 6 till 6:30 o'clock. Those planning to attend are asked to call either Glendale 4691 or Glendale 3848-R by Monday noon and make reservations. Tickets are 75 cents each.

Guests and speakers at the high school will be Frank Merriam, speaker of the state assembly; Ralph Arnold, chairman of the Republican county central committee; A. Burlingame Johnson, state senator; Frank C. Wellman, executive secretary of the committee on education of the Glendale Republican club; A. T. Cowan, chairman; Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Dr. H. S. Crowell and Mrs. H. S. Moir.

"This committee is exceptionally well qualified in every particular for the important work that it will have to handle. Mr. Cowan has had long experience in educational affairs in Illinois, and has kept up interest in such matters in Glendale."

P. T. A. President "Mrs. White has been president of the local Parent-Teacher association, but more important still, she is the mother of four sons now in various stages of education in the public schools ranging from intermediate to university. That she is vitally interested in the influences of the public schools in the matter of character building goes without saying."

"Dr. Crowell is not only an educator with a normal and university training as a background, but he has given much time to the subject of school finances. On this committee he will be in position to render valuable service to the club and through it to the community."

"Mrs. Moir is a teacher of experience and deeply interested in the development of character as the foundation of every success in life. One of the declared objects of the Glendale Republican club is to promote patriotism and respect for law and established authority. This committee on education will give attention to these phases of the subject."

R. S. Person, president of the Republican club, announced that he has completed plans for the occasion. The reception and dinner will be held from 6 to 7:30 o'clock. The reception will be from 6 till 6:30 o'clock. Those planning to attend are asked to call either Glendale 4691 or Glendale 3848-R by Monday noon and make reservations. Tickets are 75 cents each.

Guests and speakers at the high school will be Frank Merriam, speaker of the state assembly; Ralph Arnold, chairman of the Republican county central committee; A. Burlingame Johnson, state senator; Frank C. Wellman, executive secretary of the committee on education of the Glendale Republican club; A. T. Cowan, chairman; Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Dr. H. S. Crowell and Mrs. H. S. Moir.

"This committee is exceptionally well qualified in every particular for the important work that it will have to handle. Mr. Cowan has had long experience in educational affairs in Illinois, and has kept up interest in such matters in Glendale."

P. T. A. President "Mrs. White has been president of the local Parent-Teacher association, but more important still, she is the mother of four sons now in various stages of education in the public schools ranging from intermediate to university. That she is vitally interested in the influences of the public schools in the matter of character building goes without saying."

"Dr. Crowell is not only an educator with a normal and university training as a background, but he has given much time to the subject of school finances. On this committee he will be in position to render valuable service to the club and through it to the community."

"Mrs. Moir is a teacher of experience and deeply interested in the development of character as the foundation of every success in life. One of the declared objects of the Glendale Republican club is to promote patriotism and respect for law and established authority. This committee on education will give attention to these phases of the subject."

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, 13.—Outstanding among the business transactions of the last meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce was a resolution to enter a float in the New Year's Rose Tournament at Pasadena this year. The motion was made by A. C. Stover of the Kiwanis club and was adopted by the chamber.

A motion made at a previous meeting proposing to raise the membership dues from $1 to $10 per year was voted down and a substitute resolution was adopted, whereby an advertising fund shall be created by voluntary contributions.

A road and street improvement program was recommended by a special committee appointed for that purpose. The program was approved by vote of the chamber. George Slusher offered a resolution protesting against tuberculosis patients being cared for in Tujunga by the county authorities and the resolution was adopted. C. H. Conway made a motion that the chamber request the county authorities to establish a branch health office in Tujunga with physicians in charge. This motion also carried.

A. C. Stover, J. O. B. Bodkin and C. H. Conway were appointed a committee to prepare plans for the float to be entered in the Rose Tournament. Fred Axe, principal of the Tujunga school, was appointed to answer a communication relative to the establishing of the Southern Branch of the University of California in some other site, moving it from the present location in Los Angeles.

Miss Helene Franke, bride-elect of Don S. Wieman, was recently entertained by Mrs. Carroll W. Pacher, a November bride, at her home "Elfin Woods" on Los Robles avenue. A Christmas tree shower was given the honor guest and many beautiful gifts were made by the ladies who were invited to be present, among them being: Mrs. Wallace M. Morgan, who assisted the hostess in receiving; Mrs. Augustus Adams, Mrs. Genevieve Adams, Mrs. J. M. Goode, Mrs. Clarence C. Buck, Mrs. George Buck, Mrs. George Aikens, Mrs. A. C. Stover, Mrs. E. M. Spates, Miss Jean Zachan, Mrs. H. W. Zachan, Mrs. Walter Franke, Miss Stella Wieman, Mrs. E. P. Wieman, Mrs. Richard Franke, Mrs. Alma Wieman.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Community church will hold a food sale at the church Saturday at noon and will serve a noon lunch. Cakes, pies and other foods will be on sale.

Miss Stella Wieman, school nurse, reports that the district has been very fortunate this year in escaping sickness among the school children. There has been very little sickness among the youngsters.

Plans are being made to revive interest in a rifle club by the Tujunga American Legion post. These plans will be furthered at the turkey shoots to be held at the Begue ranch on East Michigan avenue December 14 to 21. Mr. Begue has offered the use of his property for a range. Preliminary plans propose to form a local organization with low dues that will not include membership in the national organization.

Prizes will for admission to the charity ball tonight at the Garden of the Moon park, Tujunga, have been announced as fifty cents and children twenty-five cents. The proceeds will go to the Christmas cheer fund of the service club, under the plans formulated by organizations of the valley and will be devoted to helping the needy.

The J. O. C. class of the Community church is today holding an all day sale of Christmas articles at Earl Brunner's store on Sunset boulevard. Home made needlework suitable for gifts are being offered.

Mrs. Henrietta Wratten has returned to Tujunga from Pasadena where she spent a short time taking hospital treatment.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 13.—A gay masquerade ball was given last night in the Occidental college gymnasium by the associated women students. It was the annual affair of the kind. None were admitted without masks. Scores of brilliant costumes were seen. A peculiar unanimity pervaded the costumes of the freshmen present. All were dressed as children.

Judges Shaw, Archibald, Collier and McLucas of the superior court and Justice J. W. Curtis of the district court of appeals, who were in Eagle Rock recently for the Masonic dedication, were guests of the dinner of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McNitt of Colorado Boulevard. Other guests were M. T. Less and Charles E. Spencer of Eagle Rock.

Mrs. C. A. Bryant of Colorado boulevard wants to have some entomologist tell her what kind of caterpillar has sharp horns and is five inches long with ringed markings and tiny dots down the outside of its oesophagus. She found one of the other day lying on a Mexican morning-glory vine. Another was found three feet away.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roloff of Lolita avenue were Mr. and Mrs. G. Farington of Newark, New Jersey. Frederick R. Pargellis is to be supervising superintendent of construction for the new Y. M. C. A. building to be erected in Glendale, it is announced.

M. E. Cantillon of Eagle Rock has left for Reed Foot Lake, Tennessee, where he plans a duck hunting trip. Reed Foot Lake is one of the nation's choice resorts for huntsmen, and Mr. Cantillon left in pleasant anticipation of the good times this outing would afford.

Mrs. Jack Carney of Ridge View avenue who recently had a serious operation in the Hollywood hospital is convalescing.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Dec. 13.—On account of the Christmas holidays the school meeting which was scheduled for Monday evening the first of the new year, when a special public meeting will be called by the property owners to decide if another school should be erected or additions made to the present buildings. If seating capacity isn't enlarged, it is said, children will have to attend half sessions next term.

A floor committee has been appointed at the "Hawaiian Night" to be given tonight at Verdugo City in the new Fowler building. All attending are promised a good time. This committee will see to it that everyone has an opportunity to display their terpsichorean ability and no one will lack for partners. Dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock, music furnished by a native Hawaiian orchestra. There will be prizes for the best old-fashioned waltz. The affair is given to celebrate the completion and opening of the new Fowler building on the south corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues.

Girl Scouts of the La Crescenta valley held their regular business meeting last night at the schoolhouse, where plans for giving Xmas cheer were made. Those knowing of a family in need which hasn't been attended to by the Woman's club and the P. T. A. are asked to notify any members of the Girl Scouts or Mrs. Jessie Hansen on East Piedmont street. Margaret Brown, one of the oldest scouts in the valley, had prepared a constitution for the troop, which was read last night. Adoption of same will be taken up at the next meeting. Contributions for the brick campaign are still in order. Scouts will send their brick to Washington, D. C.

The scouts will meet next Friday afternoon at the home of Captain Hansen to prepare their Christmas basket.

Tuesday afternoon the schools of the valley will close for the holidays. At the Montrose school a program has been prepared for the parents and will be given at 2:30 p. m. Owing to lack of auditorium space in the school arrangements have been made to hold the affair in the Montrose Community church on the corner of Oragdale and Montrose avenues. The La Crescenta school band will play. The band was rehearsed under direction of Miss Rasmussen.

DECIDES NO SCOUT HIKES ON SUNDAY

Regional Executive Present At District Meeting Held Last Night

The Glendale district committee of the Verdugo Hills council, Boy Scouts of America, took formal action at their meeting last night as opposed to troop camps or hikes over Sunday, except on special occasions and then only with the permission of the district committee as represented by the scout executive and the head of the camping department.

C. N. Miller, regional Boy Scout executive, having jurisdiction in California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, was present and strongly urged the local scout committee to take such action. Mr. Miller said that while very few, if any, Boy Scout troops did go camping over Sunday that the local committee ought to take action in the matter to settle once for all any possible misunderstanding on the part of the public.

Mr. Miller said that the Boy Scout program in the twelfth scout law requires a Boy Scout to "be faithful in his religious duties," and that every encouragement should be given to scouts to attend their own church services on Sunday. The National Council, Boy Scouts of America, recently passed a resolution as opposed to Sunday week-end camps, he said.

Explains Methods

Frank Ayars and Roy L. Kent explained that the Boy Scouts of Glendale had no occasion to go on Sunday troop camps as a Friday night camping trip is provided each month. The scoutmasters conduct their own troop unit camp over night and Mr. Cheesman, the Boy Scout executive looks after all the scouts on Saturday when the scoutmaster has to return to his work. All troops return to their homes Saturday night. Pup tents, straw beds ticks and camp tools are provided for the boys by the local scout council.

Mr. Ayars reported that 123 Boy Scouts and seventeen adult scout leaders attended the Friday and Saturday camp held in November, making the total attendance of Glendale scouts on various trips during the year 605 boys and forty-one adults.

Officers for 1925 were elected as follows: William Hunter, chairman; Major C. L. Wyman, vice chairman; Louis Wilson, Albert Wheelon, Eugene Wix and Samuel Kellogg, deputy scout commissioners. The scout executive functions as the secretary.

Regular members present at the meeting were: Captain William C. Wattles, William Hunter, Major C. L. Wyman, Peter L. Ferry, Rev. C. M. Calderwood, Frank C. Ayars, Richardson D. White, Dr. R. C. Logan, Louis Wilson, Eugene W. Wix, Albert Wheelon and H. R. Cheesman, scout executive.

NAZARENES IN SCHOOL CLUB DEDICATION OF CHURCH SCORES HIT IN PLAY

New Edifice Situated on Acacia Avenue to Be Opened Tomorrow

REV. H. A. SCHEIDEMAN
 MAN

Dedicatory services in charge of J. I. Hill of Pasadena, district church superintendent, will mark the opening of the new church of the Nazarenes at 417 East Acacia avenue tomorrow afternoon. Although the work remains to be done at the church, the dedication will take place at 3 o'clock with special services tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

With the completion of the new church building, a marked forward step is taken by the Nazarene organization in Glendale. Four years ago Rev. H. A. Scheideman, pastor of the church, first came to this city and established a mission. Tent and evangelistic services were held, then small quarters which served as a church were rented at 1092 South Glendale avenue. While this building was being occupied the church was organized. Later the building at 1032 South Glendale avenue was procured and here regular services have been held.

During the four years that Rev. Scheideman and his co-workers have been in Glendale their zealous labors have met with success. From the handful who attended the mission services at the outset, a congregation with a Sunday attendance of 200 worshippers has been built. The new building is an attestation to the

'Torch Bearers' Presented
 By Teachers' Body In
 New York Style

H. THOMPSON RICH
 Of The Evening News Staff.

The Teachers' club scored another triumph last night in the presentation of "The Torch Bearers", at the Broadway High school. The play was staged under the direction of Harold L. Brewster, teacher of dramatics at the Glendale Union High school and a talented actor. The occasion was the third annual frolic of the organization.

The excellent work of Mr. Brewster, both on and off stage, dominated the production. In the role of Frederick Ritter he gave a sincere, moving interpretation of a typical modern business man, confronted with the vagaries of a wife who believes she has histrionic talent.

Equally outstanding was the work of Mary Jane Collins in the role of Paula Ritter, the wife possessed of these vagaries. Her acting and that of Mr. Brewster led one to believe at times that the original production of this celebrated play by George Kelly was being viewed from a New York stage.

Special Mention

Two other members of the cast deserve special mention for their capable performances—Mrs. Helen S. Moir, in the role of Mrs. Pampinelli, and Mildred Vasey, as Nelly Fell. This does not limit the praise, however, as the entire cast was excellently adapted to the play.

Park L. Turill as Mr. Spindler, Ruford Blair as Huxley Hoselrose, Bert Rolfe as Teddy Spearling, Frances Hall as Florence McKitt, Beatrice Helmer as Clara Sheppard, Clara Brees as Jenny, Paul E. Webb as Ralph Twiller and Morgan Smith as stage manager—all were excellent and the faculty and pupils of the Glendale Union High school may well feel proud of the success scored.

Offers Wonderful Christmas Display

There's a remarkable Christmas display at the Buick salesrooms, 622 South Brand, Tanner & Hall, dealers, arranged by Ray Galvin, sales manager. Santa Claus is there, so is a fine Christmas tree and beautiful decorations. The public is invited to visit the display. The late models of the Buick are being shown, too.

A Christmas tree, Santa Claus, 'everything is part of the holiday display arranged by Tanner & Hall, Buick dealers, 622 South Brand boulevard, and constitutes one of the most beautiful auto salesroom displays in the city.

Ray Galvin, salesmanager for Tanner & Hall, is the originator of the Christmas tree idea and himself decorated the tree and display room. A large tree occupies the center of the room and at night flood lights enhance its beauty. Wreaths and garlands of pine are strung across the room and arranged about the tree is a showing of late model Buicks.

W. A. Tanner said a full line of all models of Buicks has been received, and Christmas delivery can be made on orders placed now. Mr. Tanner also spoke of the Buick exhibit to be made at the silver jubilee automobile show in New York and plans being made to make it more elaborate than anything heretofore attempted. Buick has again been awarded first choice of space, according to Mr. Tanner, and unusual efforts are being put forth to make Buick's display of 1925 models the most dazzling in history.

GAS WORKERS TO GET SERVICE PINS

Midway Organization Also
 To Establish Pension
 System at Meet

Distribution of service pins to faithful workmen, who during the past year have qualified as permanent employees, and the installation of a new pension system will take place at the meeting of employees of the Southern California and Midway Gas companies at the Los Angeles City club tonight.

Following the dinner there will be addresses by A. B. MacBeth, L. M. Farnham, A. E. Peat, F. J. Schafer and William Moeller, Jr., officials of the two companies. Orchestra and vocal solo numbers will make up an interesting musical program.

That the employees appreciate the attitude of the management towards them is emphasized by the increasing number of those who classify as permanent employees each year, officials pointed out.

UNION PACIFIC OLD DEPOT IS RAZED

Structure Costing $40,000
 Replaces Building on Glendale Avenue

By P. M. CONNELLY
 Of The Evening News Staff.

Today passed out of existence one more of Glendale's landmarks, a building typical of the early days of the city and rich in the lore of yesteryear. In its time it has played an important part in the life of Glendale and has contributed no small share to the factors which transformed the village of 1900 into the thriving city of 1924, a transformation within twenty-five years unsurpassed by any community on the continent.

With the setting of the sun today, the old Union Pacific station at the corner of California street and Glendale avenue will be no more. For eighteen years the depot has stood sentinel over the commercial and industrial activity of Glendale, only to give way to the inevitable results of the growth and prosperity it has helped create. None but the older generation regrets its passing. To them, however, the station has meant happy times and relationships in years gone by before the days of the electric cars or the motor transit busses.

Today workmen finished the task of demolishing the old structure which has served its purpose so long and so well. Many old-timers of the east side stood around while the battered walls were lowered to the ground and carried away in trucks. Old record books and files, laden with many an interesting tale of early life in Glendale, were lifted from their resting places in the attic of the old building and placed in their new archives in the modern depot just completed, a block away.

Romance has surrounded the history of the Union Pacific station and the railroad line into

BORAH FOR PEACE

Senator Borah, who succeeds the late Henry Cabot Lodge as head of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, is determined that the United States shall recognize the Russian Soviet government. In this contention he is in for a hard fight with President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes.

But Senator Borah made a nice distinction when he said that instead of pinning his faith to devices for preventing wars he will strive to remove the fundamental causes of war. Nations that understand and admire each other may and do find some way to settle their differences besides going to war, but no way has yet been discovered of preventing war between countries that entertain mutual suspicions, jealousies and hatreds and who enter into too keen competition with each other.

Like his predecessor, Senator Borah is strenuously opposed to our entry into the League of Nations, but he passionately hates war and the things that cause war. As head of the Foreign Relations committee he pledges himself to put into operation a foreign policy that will conform to these principles. In this he will have the approval of the people.

THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLITERACY

While we talk about and deplore the extent of illiteracy in the United States, there is one woman who is doing her utmost to wipe it out. This is Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart of Frankfort, Kentucky. It was she who established the Moonlight schools in the Kentucky mountains in 1911 as a result of some pitiful experiences she had had as superintendent of schools in Rowan county, with adults who could not read or write. This woman is now engaged in a campaign to teach the 8488 illiterates in the state of Vermont to read and write within a year.

Mrs. Stewart's methods are interesting. She first teaches the illiterate to write his own name. This is accomplished in one day and then he is eager to learn more. In six weeks he can read and write simple sentences. Some message from the state government dealing with agriculture, cooking, health or saving money is presented in simple language and is an incentive to him to continue his efforts to acquire learning.

The social and economic danger in the widespread illiteracy that prevails in the United States and which was revealed in the draft, is apparent. More than that, it is national disgrace.

FAME IS EPHEMERAL

A certain man says that when he gets to feeling self-important he tries to name the presidents of the United States who are dead. They were important, too, but the world gets along without them and scarcely remembers their names. Fame is ephemeral, and one has to be mighty important to linger long in the memory of the old world.

Charles Edward Stowe, son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, writing in the Santa Barbara Morning Press, says that if Moses should come back to Santa Barbara today he would seek in vain for recognition.

"I am Moses," he would cry indignantly.

"Never heard of you," with a vacant and blank expression.

"Why, I wrote the ten commandments!"

Faces would light up with a smile of joyous recognition.

"Oh, yes, you're from Hollywood."

CANADA WANTS IMMIGRANTS

Canada wants immigrants, and those who have thought that the United States is somewhat discriminatory in her immigration restrictions should take notice that Canada is not very meek and modest in her wants, either. It is required that the immigrant possess five qualifications: "A sound mind and body; a willingness to live under our traditions—we want no communists; an ability to earn a living with the help we offer; and that he be a Caucasian."

Canada shows good judgment and is entirely within her rights in keeping out undesirables. With the class of immigrants she wishes she will have no racial problem, she will not foster a class of citizens that will threaten to overthrow her government and she will not fill her jails, insane asylums, hospitals and almshouses with aliens—conditions that are easier prevented than overcome.

STYLE IN WRITING

Those who would develop style and power in writing should listen to Corra Harris, who writes as fine English as one can find. She says it takes experience of life to write great things, and her own life, as told in her book, "My Book and Heart," goes to prove that she is right. Mrs. Harris says:

"Just get yourself wedged for twenty years between disaster and the elbows of the Almighty and see if experience does not give you Promethean emotions and a power over words that might easily be mistaken for genius by those who do not know the facts of how this awful knowledge of life came to be."

It is impossible to tell others what you do not know, make others feel what you have not felt yourself or stir in them emotions you have never experienced.

NO REDUCTION IN WAGES

Although the Big Four Brotherhoods opposed the re-election of President Coolidge because he advocated a reduction in freight rates, the president has made it clear that he does not believe such a reduction should or would mean a cut in wages for employees of the railroads. He takes the position that if freight rates are lowered the roads could make up the difference by other economies in operation.

We do not want a reduction in wages in any industry, as that would mean a drop backward in the standards of living. The president does not advocate such a backward step.

PERSIA'S METHODS

Someone calls attention to the fact that Persia has executed three ringleaders and imprisoned for long terms twenty of the mob that killed Vice-consul Imbrie at Teheran. They have also responded to our demand for $100,000 indemnity.

How great was our indignation when our representative was killed by a foreign mob while violating some of their religious traditions, but how little we seem to care when our citizens are killed by mobs in our own country. No recent mob murder in our own country has led to any punishment whatever. The contrast is not one that shows the United States up in the best light.

More women than ever before are entering into the political field.

We have our women from "Ma" Ferguson down and the list in England includes forty-two people of the gentler sex who stood for parliament in the recent elections.

Of these there were seven Liberals, twenty-two were Labor, and twelve were Tory.

Miss Jessie Stevens, one-time domestic servant, contested the election in the Portsmouth district. She had already considerable experience in local politics, for she had been for several years a Labor member of the Borough Council in one of the riverside districts of London.

Mrs. Russell, wife of Bertrand Russell, the socialist writer, was campaigning, but she says that her efforts were really on behalf of her husband who was ill after the last election campaign and was not strong enough now to stand the strain of electioneering.

"Besides," she said, "I want to go into parliament if I can. I want to espouse the cause of working women, more especially the working mother. Most of the women who enter politics are interested in the problems of the middle class woman. I want to do something for the mother who has to get out and work for her babies."

Among Mrs. Russell's platform planks are motherhood endowment, proper care of women before and after childbirth and pensions for widows.

The two women who attracted the most public attention were Lady Diana Duff-Cooper and Miss Ishbel MacDonald. Lady Diana recently returned from New York, where she had been playing in "The Miracle," to assist her husband, who was a Conservative candidate.

Since giving women the right to vote we may not be surprised that women, more and more, enter into the political field. As to their ability in this direction, both to talk and to act, no one can be in doubt.

Horoscope

Venus and Uranus in benefic aspect dominate this day, according to astrology.

It is a most auspicious rule for women and promotes romance and sentiment in a most satisfactory manner.

While this rule prevails the mind should be attuned to all the lighter pleasures that make for real enjoyment.

Under this direction of the stars it is held particularly lucky to meet for the first time persons of opposite sex, for it is possible to appear at one's best while this configuration prevails.

There is an especially good sign for shopping and merchants should profit from extraordinary sales.

Theatres have the prognostication of much prosperity for there are to be many successful plays, among them several that deal with real persons.

According to ancient lore the giving of jewels should be peculiarly advantageous while the planetary government prevails.

The bestowal of either a wedding or an engagement ring should be a token of prolonged love and happiness, for the stars today smile on romance.

The seers prophesy for the coming year the greatest extremes of human thought. While there will be an access of spiritual consciousness, crime will remain its highest level, it is foretold.

Aviators should benefit at this time when the navigation of the air is specially influenced by Uranus in kindly way.

Mars conjoined with Uranus in a position of sinister power warns of serious political troubles in Great Britain and there may be virulent scenes in parliament.

Again a revolution, or at least serious trouble, is threatened in Constantinople.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the promise of a happy, successful year. The young will court and marry.

Children born on this day will be much respected and probably will attain unusual distinction in whatever career they may choose.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

Who's Who

South Dakota's new senator-elect, W. H. McMaster, won his senatorial seat in one of the hottest fights waged in the states where togas were vacant. But the close fight was not a new ordeal to McMaster. His friends point out that every office he has held since he was first elected as a member of the lower house in congress from Yankton county, South Dakota, has been gained by a bitter struggle.

McMaster started life as a newsboy. Helped earn his way through grammar and high school and college and then went into a country bank, later becoming one of its officers.

After serving a term in the House McMaster ran for state senator and was elected by a close vote. Then he ran for lieutenant governor and later governor, winning both seats by narrow margins. He is a Republican.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, DEC. 13, 1924

PLANS LAW TO REGULATE SUBDIVISION PROMOTION

REALTORS ASK INDUSTRIAL SESSIONS

San Diego Wants Conference On Feb. 22; Oakland Is After Meeting

W. H. Damm, analytical realtor, of Los Angeles, chairman of the industrial division of the California Real Estate association, will arrange for the holding of additional industrial conferences under the auspices of the state association, following the highly successful conference at Anaheim when leading industrial experts of the state gathered to discuss ways and means of stimulating the industrial development of this state.

Fred E. Reed, Oakland realtor, and vice president elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, invited Mr. Damm to hold a conference in Oakland, the invitation being extended jointly by the Oakland Real Estate board and the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

San Diego Asks

A like invitation was extended for San Diego by Stephen Barnson, president of the San Diego Realty board, who stated that such a conference could be held in San Diego on February 22, and that night the annual banquet of the San Diego Real Estate board would be held to which all attending the conference would be invited.

Chairman Damm expressed himself as very pleasantly surprised by the large delegation at the conference. Forty California cities were represented by realtors and Chamber of Commerce secretaries.

Jewelry Sales Heavy In Denver, Is Report

DENVER, Dec. 13.—Jewelers here estimate their sales of Christmas merchandise will exceed $1,000,000 or about $250,000 more than in any previous year.

Property Value Twelve Billion In California

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 13.—The total actual value of all property in the state of California, assessed for city and county taxation, is $12,123,970,808, according to a survey just completed by the state Board of Equalization. The total amount of city and county taxes to be collected by taxation upon this value, for the year 1924, is $219,468,000, the figures show.

Included in the same report is the total tax burden borne by each $100 full value of property, which is shown to be $1.81, as against the $1.78 plus, for the year 1922. This is an increase of 3 cents per $100 for the two-year period.

An analysis of the values of property shows them to be distributed as follows:

Real estate inside cities, $3,599,149,596; in improvements inside cities, $2,489,761,501; personal property, money and credits, inside cities $1,407,363,210, and all property outside cities, $4,627,696,492.

Xmas Buying Expected To Set New Records

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 13.—Buying of Christmas goods in the last week has been so heavy that haberdashers and furnisiers predict the holiday turnover will set a new high record.

CAMPAIGN FOR 'OWN HOMES' IS PLANNED

Chairman Of Committee To Make Statewide Tour, Visiting Boards

Clifton J. Platt, chairman of the "own your own home" and "build and build now" committee of the California Real Estate association, leaves Pasadena on December 15 on a statewide tour during which he will call on real estate boards in California in the interest of conducting through the local real estate board's intensive "own your own home" campaign.

A committee on each board will be named, a date set for the local drive, and then by song, story, film, advertisement and the printed word, all civic organizations, all luncheon clubs, and all theatres, schools and newspapers will be united in a powerful campaign to stimulate home building.

It is the desire of Chairman Platt and the realty organization to make certain that proper homes are built and that the flimsy and unsatisfactory building that soon becomes a burden to the purchaser does not demage the desire of the people of the state to own their own homes.

AMERICANS SAVE LARGE AMOUNT

In Twelve Years Savings In Banks Make Gain Of 148 Per Cent

Total savings deposits in the United States increased in the last twelve years from $8,425,275,000 to $20,873,562,000, a rise of $12,448,287,000 or nearly 148 per cent. This is brought out in an exhaustive statistical study just completed by the savings bank division of the American Bankers association showing the "progress of the great savings movement so evident in the United States in the last ten years."

Data made public shows that in the twelve year period since 1912 per capita savings in the United States expanded from $89 to $186, an increase of $97, or 109 per cent. The total number of savings depositors in this period grew from 12,584,316 to 38,867,994, indicating that savings depositors today are more than threefold what they were twelve years ago.

The compilation includes the savings deposits in mutual savings banks, state banks, trust companies, private banks and national banks, based upon official reports of national and state banking departments, and includes all items reported as savings deposits, certificates of deposit payable in thirty days or over and postal savings. The data follows:

Year	Total Savs.	Per Capita	Total No. Savs.
1912	$8,425,275,000	$89	12,584,316
1913	8,820,132,000	91	14,236,321
1914	9,228,525,000	93	15,385,734
1915	9,791,525,000	96	16,524,528
1916	10,478,068,000	99	17,374,779
1917	11,115,790,000	108	18,631,586
1918	11,639,323,000	111	19,637,759
1919	12,456,460,000	118	18,176,251
1920	14,672,178,000	137	20,915,612
1921	16,815,555,000	157	26,373,879
1922	17,931,479,000	158	30,223,321
1923	19,567,953,000	176	35,425,317
1924	20,873,562,000	186	38,867,994

It is pointed out in the statement that the number of savings depositors are unavailable in seventeen states, so that the figures given would be materially increased if it were possible to add these.

Producers Now Retail Oil In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—The General Petroleum Co. shortly is expected to follow the example of the Pan-American Co. in invading the San Francisco retail field. The field is already the scene of keen competition between Standard Oil of California and the Shell Union and Associated Oil companies.

Russian Syndicate Is Buying Staple Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13.—The Russian Textile Syndicate, which has an office in this city, has purchased 25,000 bales of long staple cotton in the past week bringing the total purchased up to about 100,000 bales. It is expected to purchase an additional 200,000 bales before the season is over.

Ainsley Takes White's Place On January 3

On January 3, 1925, Everett A. White of Santa Ana, will turn over to D. Richard Ainsley of Fresno the presidency of the California Real Estate association. At the same time a quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the state realty organization will be held. The affair will be held at the Hotel Californian, Fresno, with a banquet at 7 o'clock.

The formal induction of Mr. Ainsley to the presidency will take place at the banquet where the oath of office will be administered by State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser.

It is expected that a large majority of the boards will be represented by their state directors and board representatives.

CAR ACCESSORIES SOLVE XMAS GIFT

Pacific Coast People Own One Car to Every 3.4 Persons

With one motor vehicle for every 3.4 persons in the Pacific states, the filling of Christmas presents lists is welcomed as a happy solution in the "give something for the car" spirit that is finding rapid favor here.

Those few who do not own automobiles are fortunate in having a friend or neighbor who shares the pleasure of his possession with them. In this way the average person knows motor cars and those accessories that tend toward heightened convenience and comfort.

The giving of automobile accessories and equipment for Christmas presents is dominant in the minds of appreciative and thoughtful car owners and their friends; and it is not amiss to give something for the car since the entire family will enjoy it.

Gift Problem Simple So it is a simple matter to solve the gift problem when there is an automobile in the family and few gifts could be more appreciated by the family in general than some article that will add comfort or utility to the car.

Those without cars can show their appreciation to their motoring friends who have taken them on week-end trips or Sunday excursions by giving them a tire or some needed accessory.

From the activities noted at the Western Auto Supply Co. during this holiday season, all indications point to a real automotive Christmas and the old family sock will be filled with accessories this year.

Rail Workers Fail To Come To Agreement

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13.—Nothing definite has yet resulted from the wage negotiations being conducted here between 6,000 Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and the management of the Southern Pacific railroad, it was announced at the beginning of today's conference between the men and the company. An agreement satisfactory to both sides is expected within a day or two.

Production Of Oil In Texas Fields Is Off

HOUSTON, Dec. 13.—The production of oil in the gulf coast and south Texas fields in the last week averaged 139,590 barrels daily. This was a decrease from the previous week of 2,475 barrels a day.

Pig Iron Buying Falls Off At Season's Close

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—Buying of pig iron has decreased markedly the end of the fall movement. Business will now be confined chiefly to old lots for consumers who do not contract quarterly.

Leatrice Joy Signs New Lasky Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—Leatrice Joy, who recently became a mother and retired from the screen, has announced she had signed a new contract with Lasky.

LICENSE NEED OF REALTY BROKERS

After Jan. 1, All Operators Required To Take Oral Test To Operate

All those now holding a real estate broker's license will be required to stand an oral as well as a written examination beginning January 1, 1925, according to Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser. Examining boards will be appointed and will sit monthly in San Diego, Los Angeles, Fresno, San Francisco and Sacramento, and at times in other cities to test applicants.

Those now holding broker's licenses will be given new certificates on application, according to the commissioner, but all new applicants must take the examination.

A meeting in which he met the Legislative Committee of the California Real Estate association, Commissioner Keiser outlined his plans for a proposed amendment to the State Real Estate Act which will make it mandatory for promoters of subdivisions to secure the approval of the State Real Estate department before placing them on the market. The department would make a thorough investigation of the property as to titles and the like and the financial responsibility of the promoters promised.

UNION PACIFIC IN BIG AD CAMPAIGN

Road To Spend $1,000,000 Majority To Find Way Into California

A million dollars for advertising. That is the amount set aside by the Union Pacific System at their annual advertising meeting held in Omaha, which was attended by T. C. Peck, general passenger agent and C. E. Miller, advertising manager, of Los Angeles.

In addition to their usual nationwide newspaper campaign, the Union Pacific will advertise in the larger national magazines and is going to issue one of the finest series of booklets ever issued, descriptive of the various places of interest along its lines. These will include California, Yellowstone National Park, Colorado's Mountain Playgrounds, Utah-Idaho Outings, Dude Ranches Out West, The Pacific Northwest and Alaska, Sunny Southern California and other subjects.

The first of these booklets to come from the printers will be on California. Advance copies of this booklet already have arrived and it has been pronounced the handsomest booklet on California issued by any railroad. It has an embossed cover and forty-eight color engravings of Zion National Park and Bryce canyon, which attractions may be visited en route to and from Southern California.

A new issue of their Southern California folder map is also being printed for wide distribution over the United States.

California Benefits "Much of our million dollar appropriation will be spent in advertising California," said T. C. Peck, general passenger agent. "The Union Pacific has been a consistent advertiser of this territory for years and has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in getting California publicity before the eastern public. This policy will be followed on an ever larger scale during 1925, and in addition it is our intention to spend a hundred thousand dollars in advertising the wonderful scenic attractions of Southern Utah which include Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon, Cedar Breaks, Kalbar Forest on the North Rim of the Grand Canyon. This advertising will be in conjunction with California advertising. A side trip to the scenic places may be made en route to Southern California, and many of the thousands of people who will make the trip to Zion National Park during the coming year will continue on to California and add greatly to Southern California's summer tourist business."

The Union Pacific is now building a hundred new cottages and suitable camp buildings in Zion National Park and at Bryce canyon and a new automobile transportation system of forty new buses will be put on the run from Cedar City to the various places of interest.

Demand from American automobile manufacturers has improved the plate glass situation in Belgium.

CALIFORNIANS TO ATTEND MEETING

Realtors To Seek Sanction Of Resolution On One Board System

The indications are that California will have a large state delegation at the mid-winter convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards to be held at Dallas, Texas, January 13.

It is at that meeting that the resolution adopted by the board of directors of the national association at the Columbus meeting in November and by the Pasadena convention of the California Real Estate association, by which more than one board would be allowed, under certain conditions, in cities with more than 500,000 population will be ratified.

Reports from all sections of the state coming into the offices of the California Real Estate association indicate that representatives of many California boards will go to the Dallas meeting to urge the adoption of the resolution offered by the board of directors at the request of the New York and California state organizations.

Colorado Beet Farmers Cash In On Product

DENVER, Dec. 13.—Checks totaling $3,500,000 will be sent to the beet farmers of Colorado, Nebraska and Montana by the Great Western Sugar Company December 15 in payment for November beet deliveries. It is estimated that the 1924 crop will net growers who contracted with the Great Western approximately $17,000,000.

Rubbers worn in Hungary have pointed toes and arctic haw cloths, which often are trimmed with fur.

Brokers Seek Organization Within Ranks

Organization of "business chance" and "investment brokers" of Southern California was effected at a meeting in Los Angeles Thursday night at which time membership was limited to only licensed real estate brokers, according to Edwin T. Keiser, commissioner of the state real estate department.

"It is the purpose of this organization," he said, "to clean up the ranks of investment services which are not now controlled by law. The organization intends to seek legislation similar to that of the real estate business, but in the meantime members will comply with the ethical standards of licensed brokers."

This volunteer action on the part of business brokers indicates to the real estate commission the value of reasonable regulation of their business conduct.

"I have found," he said, "that real estate men more readily come to the commission with their proposed activities and ascertain the attitude of this office toward their projects."

Lineberger Presents Data On L. A. Harbor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Representative Lineberger, Republican, of California, has placed before President Coolidge a mass of data in support of the $11,000,000 appropriation contemplated in the new rivers and harbors bill for improvement of the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor.

Lineberger's figures indicated that this year's exports through the harbor of the southwest would reach nearly double those of last year; that general merchandise shipments this year were averaging 100,000 tons per month more than in 1923, and that domestic receipts and domestic shipments for the harbor this year would show $211,000,000 balance of trade in favor of eastern manufacturers and producers.

SALE PROMISE IS PART OF MEASURE

Edwin T. Keiser, Real Estate Commissioner, Proposes To Protect Buyer

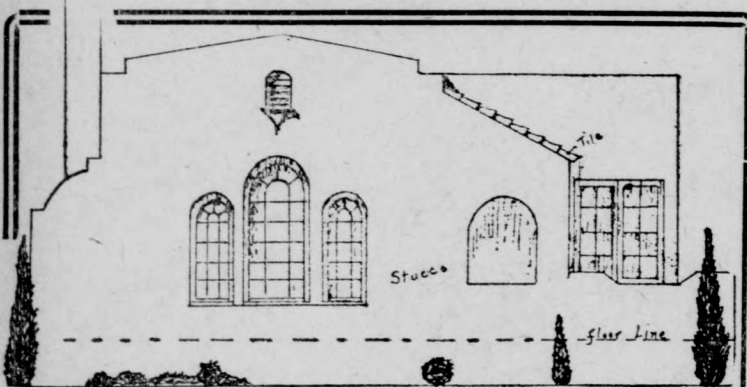

By GIL A. COWAN
Written for The Evening News, LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—Legislation regulating promotions of subdivisions in this state will be asked of the California legislature in session at Sacramento next January by Edwin T. Keiser, state real estate commissioner, who maintains offices here.

In an exclusive interview with Southland News Service's representative he revealed that he will seek an amendment to the present real estate law making it necessary for subdividers to file with his office a statement of their plans before selling any property, under penalty of being convicted of a felony.

Will Seek Law

Mr. Keiser left Los Angeles Thursday night for San Francisco and Sacramento where he will confer with deputies on a proposed questionnaire which it would be necessary for subdividers to file for the approval of the real estate department. He will also call on the Legislative Counsel bureau at the state capital to have his ideas incorporated in a bill, he informed the writer.

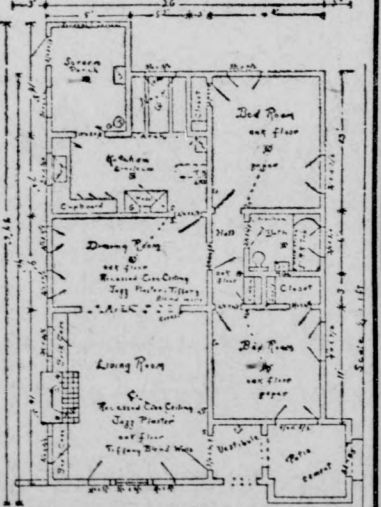

With a view to curbing "shoe string" operators who are unable to deliver deeds and make promised improvements, particularly in rapidly developing cities of California, the real estate commissioner would have ten pertinent questions answered and sworn to before a notary. Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater Had a Wife and Couldn't Keep Her

Till he had built a new home in Glendale, the lumber supplied by Bentley's.

But that isn't all—Old Peter didn't build a shell; he built a real honest-to-goodness home.

There is a mite of philosophy in old Peter's methods, for home ownership represents man's greatest achievement. To the wife—it's her paradise. And old Peter wanted to put her in paradise as fast as he could.

Every family can be a Home Owner if it will. You Can Do It. If you once realize the truth of those four little words—You Will Do It.

PALACE GRAND XMAS TREE FOR KIDS

Robert Jensen Erects Big
Green In Arcade for Local Children

Words are inadequate to describe the beauty of the Christmas tree erected in the lobby of Jensen's Palace Grand arcade, 132 North Brand boulevard, by Robert Jensen, owner of the building, for the kiddies of Glendale.

This is the second Christmas tree given by Mr. Jensen and the Palace Grand shops, and the success of the affair last year served to induce Mr. Jensen to make this an annual event. The tree is forty-five feet high and specially ordered from Oregon, and required one entire flat car to transport it here. Seven men worked all last night trimming the tree and putting on the lights, and their labor is reflected in the atmosphere of the Yuletide that pervades the arcade. Gorgeous with multitudes of light globes, tinsel in glittering hues, gold and silver festoons, garlands and images of the Christ child, and last, but not least, Santa Claus, all helped delight the hundreds of children who have viewed the tree today.

So great was the interest taken in the tree last year that this year's announcement caused radio KFI to ask for details that will be broadcasted all over the country. A special program is being arranged for the kiddies, and this, in addition to other features, will be on a radio program.

Spirit of Christmas
The spirit of Christmas radiates from the big tree and permeates every nook and cranny of the arcade; a fragrance of spicy pine needles arises and adds to the exemplification of the Yuletide spirit, and the glittering electric lights on the tree, with the floodlights playing from different points, make a scene of beauty unsurpassed in Southern California.

Everybody is invited to see the tree and visit the arcade shops, all of which will remain open until 9 p. m. until Christmas. The managers and salespeople of the different shops will act as a reception committee each day and night to the visitors and assist in the entertainment features. The shops that are co-operating in the affair are:

Sherrod's lingerie shop, Melba-Jeanne ladies' ready-to-wear, Brown's art and gift shop, Marion-Elizabeth millinery, Egyptian Village cafe, Palace Grand beauty parlor, Lewis jewelry store, Sun drug store, Recreation Center bowling alley and Albert Sheetz Mission candy store.

Plan for Attractive Home

Complete specifications and details for the building of the structure pictured below, are furnished by the BENTLEY LUMBER CO., 460 West Los Feliz road. This information is a part of the service that has made the firm known among persons planning to build.

"It is not unlikely that any man ever entered upon a home building program who did not first ask himself the question 'Can I afford to build?'" said an official of the Bentley Lumber Co., "and it is just as unlikely that any man of thrift ever built a home under normal conditions who did not wonder when the last installment lifted the mortgage on his home, 'How could I afford not to build?'"

"The day the cancelled mortgage is put into the little wife's hands is always an epochal day in the family history—a day of triumphs for in most cases, the cancelled mortgage on the home represents courage, thrift, industry, grit, sacrifice.

"There is in lieu of perhaps three or four thousand dollars in rent receipts, a home that has been completely paid for, and your three or four years of labor has not been spent in vain. From the very moment you have paid for your home, life assumes a different aspect. The question 'Can I afford to build' becomes a question, 'Can I afford not to build?'"

The above plan is furnished by the Bentley Lumber Co., situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. This plan is one of hundreds on display at its offices for the home builder's inspection.

BUILDINGS IN INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT

Rapid Strides Are Made In Section Sponsored By
L. H. Wilson

One industrial building recently completed and occupied, another under construction, several more to be started within sixty days, construction under way for the first unit of a million-dollar creamery and proceedings for the widening of San Fernando road passed by City Council, has marked another period of activity in the central manufacturing district sponsored by L. H. Wilson, realtor, 1034 South San Fernando road.

Mr. Wilson bought this property, located at Windsor road, Los Angeles street and San Fernando road, about two years ago. At that time he was told he paid six times too much for it. Mr. Wilson has cut through streets, widened a short section of San Fernando road, built five large industrial buildings in which he located five manufacturing plants, which have increased the value of the property.

Just completed is one of Glendale's largest industrial buildings, Los Angeles and West Garfield streets, and leased to the Rex garage and manufacturing plant. Near the corner of San Fernando road and West Garfield street another building is nearing completion and work will be started within a few days on another building on Windsor road.

District Advantages
Mr. Wilson pointed out some of the advantages to be had in the San Fernando road district, both from an industrial and investment outlook. The widening of San Fernando road will give a boulevard 66 feet from curb to curb and 86 feet from property line to property line.

Mr. Wilson called attention also to the expenditure of $100,000 by the Southern Pacific railroad for spur tracks, five having been recently installed. Two years ago, Mr. Wilson said, the Southern Pacific utterly ignored any requests for siding facilities. Now, he added, these same officials make trips every week to Glendale and urge the location of more industries in the central manufacturing district and readily grant requests for spur tracks.

One of the most important additions to the district is the million dollar milk distribution plant of the Los Angeles Creamery Co. The first unit is up to the second floor and work is being pushed rapidly forward so as to have the building ready for use soon after the first of the year. This building is on a four and one-half acre tract on West Park avenue near San Fernando road, adjacent to Mr. Wilson's industrial section. The creamery building, when completed, will handle the product of the company's 1038-acre dairy ranch at Van Nuys.

can woman, neither more nor less clever than at least a million other good wives in the forty-eight commonwealths that comprise these United States, and presents her under the influence of an older woman who has told her that she can "act." Paula Ritter, played by Mary Jane Collins, gave a strikingly vivid characterization in this role and the large audience that witnessed the performance will long carry the memory of her work.

Mrs. Helen S. Moir, as Mrs. Pampinelli, the woman who influences Paula and nearly breaks up her home, gave as finished an interpretation as may be seen on the professional stage. And throughout the three difficult acts, Mr. Brewster's characterization of Frederick Ritter dominated the performance, while his influence was dominating the production.

The student technical staff comprised Forest Krug, William Montgomery, Walton Andrews and Ralph Campbell.

College Students Tell Need Of Financial Aid

According to figures released by the Yale Alumni Association of Southern California 1,505 students at Yale last year registered at the University's Bureau of Appointments as being in need of financial assistance to meet their expenses at Yale. This comprises 37 per cent of all regular students.

Nine hundred and fifty students were awarded scholarships and loans, amounting to $271,303.00. Through work secured through the Bureau of Appointments students earned $287,771.00. Through work secured independently of the Bureau, $95,260.00 was earned, making a grand total of all reported earnings and scholarship assistance through the University of $656,170.00.

Glendale which it served. In 1887, when the boom reached out and enveloped where Glendale now stands, the old narrow gauge railroad from Los Angeles to the Verdugo foothills was built by Capt. Cross. Later, the road was sold to St. Louis capitalists. Far back in those days, over thirty-seven years ago, this was the only means of transportation available to settlers in this section wishing to go to Los Angeles.

The road flourished for a while. Real estate operators brought prospective buyers out to show them the beginning of the fastest growing city in America. Soon houses were built by those who had become the victims of the boom day realty salesmen. It wasn't long before a little group of stores lined Glendale avenue, then the only honest-to-goodness thoroughfare in the district. Brand boulevard wasn't even a cow path. Glendale was hailed as the coming suburban settlement of Southern California.

Next came the first Glendale hotel. It was built on the "outskirts" of the town. Just a short few months ago, this building, which, in recent years, was occupied by the Glendale Sanitarium, has, like the U. P. station, fallen in the path of progress and is no more. The old hotel was turned into a girls' seminary some time after its erection. Still later it became the Glendale Union High school and then was acquired by the Adventists for their sanitarium.

Other establishments started, and along Glendale avenue centered the life of the community. Several trains back and forth each day served an industrious people. Little one-jumped locomotives puffed up and down the "Avenue" with their cargoes of human freight. Ross and Thom had extensive citrus holdings in this section and with this business cornered the rail line bade fair to become a very successful branch of the Terminal Railway, which also served Pasadena and Los Angeles and tapped the San Pedro "harbor" district.

In those early days Verdugo park was the objective of all picnics held by Los Angeles organizations. Churches, Sunday school classes, lodges, labor organizations, and others were among those who came. Never a day passed in the summer time but one or more picnics held forth in the secluded groves of Verdugo park. Even now, C. A. Redmond of the local Union Pacific office, recalls with what awe he and others started out from Los Angeles with a picnic train for a day at the park. When the train left the metropolis it was fully equipped with curtains, shades and all other necessary apparel. When it made its way homeward that night the coaches were without curtains and had but few of the windows left. Mr. Redmond explained that this was not a Sunday school picnic, but the outing of the bartenders' union, members of which honorable body were out for a good time and left no stone unturned nor curtain unmolested in seeing that they got it.

The old railroad took another spurt forward when John Pirtle opened up Verdugo Woodlands, and several trainloads of prospective buyers were brought from Los Angeles each day. The "crows" brought in by these real estate subdividers made the "Avenue" a busy mart of trade, and the village "Main" street, with its watering trough, hitching posts and dinky railway line, took on the aspect of a real, thriving community.

New Depot Built

But no morning sun lasts the whole day, and no good thing keeps on forever. There came a time when the little railroad line was almost vacated as far as passenger travel was concerned. Still it maintained its rating as a freight route to this section, and in 1907 the station was built, to better care for the freight shipments.

For eighteen years the depot served the city of Glendale and its people. Today, for that service, generous and constant, it has reaped its reward—destruction. It is just one of the many landmarks which needs must be swallowed in the onward march of progress. It resolves merely into a question of which is next?

To replace the battered and scarred old building has been reared a fine new $40,000 structure with every modern convenience and up-to-date accommodation. Freight facilities are afforded for handling four cars of automobiles at once, and amply caring for the business of 55,000 prosperous people which in the past has been handled from a little old depot designed to serve the community when it was a village. But the little old depot rose heroically

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Tape Worm

"Dear Doctor: Will you please tell me what will dissolve a tape worm? I had one three years ago and was treated, and the doctor claimed that he got rid of it, but he did not. It is beginning to bother me again and I want to get rid of the tormenting old thing. Will you give me a prescription through the mail? I cannot afford to stay away from work for three days, to starve it—C."

The worm you have now, Mrs. C., is probably not the same old thing you had three years ago, for that one would have tormented you before this.

A tape worm is composed of hundreds of segments growing from a single head and neck. The head is very tiny—not larger than an ordinary pin head. The beef tape worm has suckers alone and the pork tape worm is doubly armed with hooks and suckers. These heads attach themselves to the upper part of the small intestines and it takes about three months for the full length worm of from three to ten feet long (depending upon the type) to develop. They cannot be dissolved. Any medicine that would dissolve a worm would also dissolve the intestinal mucous membrane. The medication is given to stupefy the best so that its tiny but powerful suckers and hooks will release their strangle hold.

The reason fasting or a very light fruit juice diet is advised for two or three days, is to clean the intestines of food residue, so the worm will be exposed to the medication.

I cannot give you a prescription because the treatment is rather drastic and should be personally supervised by a physician. The general treatment is this: fast for two or three days, and the night before the treatment, a good purgative (any purgative except castor oil, for that is thought to favor the absorption of the worm medicine by the system). You should stay in bed the morning following the purgative and the worm medicine to prevent vomiting. After all of the worm medicine is taken, another purgative should be taken.

Trilulations while Reducing

Mrs. J. B. sends in the following: If you can stand my "poetry," you can hear:

"Now when you start reducing, your husband will begin, to say how unattractive a woman is when thin; but you know he's only jealous for fear you'll look so well, that other men will call you a dainty village belle. And your sister, she will tell you you look much better fat; but don't you let her tease you—you know better than that. And some one else will tell you they had a friend who tried to follow Doctor Gettlin, and she shivered up and died for me, so you must be discouraged, no matter what they say. Keep limiting your calories and you'll get slimmer day by day."

Are you buying your share of Christmas seals, to help eradicate tuberculosis?

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest, I don't forget the same. If you send me your information I have offered.

There are many times that the housekeeper needs the knowledge of waterproofing. I believe that the following directions will be useful:

To Waterproof Woolens: Dissolve in three gallons of water, four ounces of powdered alum and four and one-half ounces of sugar of lead (a POISON). Stir this mixture twice a day for two days, then pour off the clear liquid carefully and stir into this one-fourth ounce of isinglass which has been dissolved in a little warm water. Steep the woolen material in this solution for six hours and let dry. This completes the process.

To Waterproof a Leaky Vase: Now and then the inside glaze of a pottery vase or flower bowl will be found imperfect so that when it is used as a ring of moisture will be found on the table or surface upon which it stands. To remedy this nuisance warm the pottery with hot water and wipe. Then put into it a few spoonfuls of melted paraffine wax and turn the vase till its entire interior is coated before the wax hardens. It will then hold water perfectly.

To Waterproof Wall Paper: When ordinary wall paper is used on the walls of bathroom or kitchen, it can be made waterproof by a thin coat of spar varnish. After such treatment the wall may be kept clean and sanitary by being merely washed down from time to time.

Eastern Star

Informal sociability marked the reception held last night at the Masonic temple by Glen Eyrre chapter, O. E. S., for members who have been received during 1924. Early in the evening Mrs. Jennie A. Phillips, worthy matron, and Arthur Kase, worthy patron, presided over a short business hour. Announcement was made that invitations have been issued for the installation of officers elect December 20. Later five hundred was played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Dollie Kase, Mrs. Alvina Jenson, Dr. Early and Mrs. Katherine Delgado. Baskets of roses from the garden of Mrs. Frank Beckett, were used in decoration. Honoring the special guests was a large cake bearing the words, "Greeting 1924." The cake was cut by Mrs. Sallie Braden, grand district deputy.

Presents Program

Mrs. Helen MacMullin arranged the Ethelbert Nevin program presented yesterday at the meeting of the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. Roberta T. Young, curator, presided. Mrs. MacMullin gave a sketch of Nevin's life. Gretta Cordary and Harold Trofry sang a duet "Oh That We Two Were Maying"; "The Rosary" and "Mon Desir"; vocal solos by Mrs. Harry MacMullin; piano selections by Mrs. Mable Belfis Clement were "Venetian Boat Song" and "Ave Maria." Mrs. Cordary closed the program with two songs "Goodnight, Goodnight Beloved" and "The Merry, Merry Lark." Mrs. Young was accompanist.

At Cooper Home

Mrs. Robbins, state P. E. O. inspector, was guest yesterday at the meeting of chapter BA at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cooper, 302 North Central avenue. Assisting hostesses were Mesdames Frank Arnold, Freeman McG. Kelley and Josephine Brant. The morning was devoted to chapter work. After lunch Mrs. Alice Carter directed study of the constitution. Later Mrs. M. E. Canfield gave readings and Mrs. Alice Ripley gave piano numbers.

Book Reviewed

"Ming Kwong" was the study book reviewed by members of the Mission Study club of the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon, when they met at the home of Mrs. Edward Kretschmer, 125 Sinclair avenue. Mrs. T. A. Wright was the leader assisted by Mrs. S. B. Warner and Mrs. Hughes, in leading the discussion. Light refreshments were served later by the hostess.

J. O. C. Meeting

Routine business will be considered at the business meeting of the J. O. C. class of the Pacific avenue Methodist church Monday night, December 15 at the home of Mrs. George Moore, 221 West Elk street. Mrs. Ida Aris, president of the class will be hostess and hopes that all members will be present for the Christmas tree and social hour.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

SOME NEW FORMULAS

Some of my old column friends will notice some changes in formulas given here. A recent thorough study of all the best beauty preparations has convinced me that many of these are basically alike. They differ only in nonessentials and I have found that cosmetics, like the plots of short stories, could all be boiled down to a few varieties of ingredients.

First to simplify, then, is the cold cream preparation which is most in demand. I've been sending out two formulas, one a cleanser, the other a wrinkle or a flesh building cream. Now I'm going to combine the two in one formula, with this important difference to be noted by those who make them up! The cleansing cream contains mineral oil, cheap, effective, very cleansing. The complexion or flesh building cream contains vegetable or nut oil, which the skin absorbs and makes use of. Mineral oil softens and removes dirt and various sticky, oily secretions that have no business lingering in the pores. Vegetable oil does the same thing but not quite so thoroughly because, as I have said, the skin absorbs some of it. This doesn't do away with its value as a cleanser, however; there isn't that much difference in the action of the two kinds of oils. The chief reason for using mineral oil cream as a cleanser is that it is so much cheaper to make. At that, many ready-made preparations that are supposed to feed the tissues contain nothing but mineral oils and are nothing, in reality, but good cleansers.

Here is the formula:—
White wax, one ounce; spermaceti, one ounce; olive oil, five ounces; rose water, one and one-half ounces; borax, 30 grains; oil of bitter almond, 15 drops.

J. M. M.—Rub the skin with a mixture of peroxide of hydrogen and ammonia, half and half. This will discourage the growth of the fine fuzz on the face.

A Reader—Both your occupations will make the finger tips rough, though housework is harder on the hands than typing. Rub your nails and the end of the fingers with cold cream at night and save your hands when you do housework, by wearing rubber or leather gloves.

Miss H. B.—Rub your scalp with warm castor oil every few days. That will darken the hair a little and help restore its natural color. The peroxide has bleached it so much that it will take weeks to return to the proper shade.

J. V. K.—If powder doesn't stay on the nose, and the skin is oily, make a paste of laundry starch and cold water and rub well into the nose every day, washing it off after half an hour. This takes up superfluous oil.

LAW REGULATING PROMOTION, PLAN
or failure to file this information, would constitute a felony.
If the real estate brokers complied with his proposed law, Mr. Keiser points out, it would relieve the courts of much litigation which is too prevalent for the good of the profession, he believes. The questions he proposes follow:
1. Name of tract in subdivision?
2. Owner of record?
3. Amount of mortgage or balance due on property?
4. Are all payments made by purchaser, paid to owner of record?
5. Is owner of record authorized to issue deed to purchaser when payment is made in full?
6. What provisions have been made for delivery of deed when purchase price is paid in full?
7. What improvements are promised to buyer at time of purchase?
8. On what date are the promised improvements to be completed?
9. What arrangements have been made for the financing of those improvements?
10. Either a financial statement of owners or copy of bond given insuring the improvements?
Mr. Keiser also informed the writer that he will oppose any effort on the part of brokers to relieve themselves of salesmen's responsibility. It had been proposed, he said, to alter the present law so that salesmen would be forced to post costly bonds, the same as brokers, and assume the same responsibility. A statement by Mr. Keiser covers this proposition as follows:
"Real estate brokers are responsible for the acts of their salesmen during the term of their employment. The relation is that of principal and agent. A broker is entitled to all the benefits accruing from the services of the salesmen performed within the scope of his employment, and the salesmen may benefit only in accordance with the terms as agreed upon between himself and his broker."
"The public may regard a real estate salesman as one delegated by the real estate broker to represent said broker in negotiating sales and exchanges of real estate, in any other transaction wherein he is called upon to perform the services of his principal, the real estate broker."
"The broker, having chosen to use the services of such a salesman, and being entitled to benefit as a principal from his services, must necessarily assume responsibility for the acts of his representative."
"The acts of the salesmen in negotiating real estate transactions become the acts of the broker; therefore, the responsibility of the broker to any client for any injury caused by those acts. The broker cannot and should not escape liability for the acts of his salesmen because of his ignorance of the evil character and wrong doing of his salesmen. The victim of the wrong doing of the salesman should not suffer. It is right that the broker be held accountable for the salesman he selects to represent him."
"Many brokers are entirely too careless in the selection of their salesmen. Many of them will give employment and sign a license application for any person who applies for a job. They recommend the applicant to the department, as being a person honest and truthful and of good reputation, without having made sufficient investigation to justify such a recommendation."
"License is granted to such applicant, because the recommendation comes from the employer who under the law, is charged with responsibility for those in his employ. Brokers should use the same

ALL-AMERICAN GRID PICKED BY PERRY

Yale, Notre Dame Each Get Two Positions On Writer's Team

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

One thing that may be said for the players selected by the writer for his All-America team of 1924 is that they maintained their form consistently throughout the season. They were great when the season began and equally great—if not greater—when the season ended.

There never was a year so filled with upsets and surprises of various sorts. And under such conditions it is not surprising that players have shown fluctuation. It was these variations in form, indeed, that contributed very largely to overtures that occurred with frequency so startling throughout the season.

Perhaps there are players who in single games rose to greater heights than some of those named in the writer's All America team. But if so it was a flash, a rocket soaring skyward and then falling to earth very quickly.

It has been the writer's aim to select players whom he saw in action and in the teams named he has been able, for the most part, to carry out this idea. In the few cases where players were not seen the writer selected them on the basis of abundant information received from men for whose judgment no one could have ought but the highest respect. The teams follow:

ALL AMERICAN ELEVEN
Ends—Wakefield, Vanderbilt; Luman, Yale.

Tackles—Gowdy, Chicago; Joss, Yale.

Guards—Pondelick, Chicago; Slaughter, Michigan.

Center—Walsh, Notre Dame. Quarterback—Stuhldreher, Notre Dame.

Halfbacks—Baker, Northwestern; Grange, Illinois.

Fullback—Wycoff, Georgia Tech.

SECOND ALL AMERICA ELEVEN
Ends—Hubbard, Centenary; Otte, Iowa.

Tackles—Weir, Nebraska; Edwards, Michigan.

Guards—Parsons, Northwestern; Howard, Princeton.

Center—Probst, Alabama. Quarterback—Parkin, Iowa.

Halfbacks—Layden, Notre Dame; Schutte, Minnesota.

Fullback—Thomas, Chicago.

Luman, of Yale, was a great end in the light of the Big Three tradition of offensive and defensive wing play. That is saying a great deal. Swift down the field, a deadly tackler, a very engine of destruction on interference and sure in covering forward passes, he has everything an end should have.

Wakefield, of Vanderbilt, may be credited with everything said of Luman and, in addition, he was an unerring dropkicker, a punter, a forward passer and everything else. So great was his versatility that in emergency he was played in a variety of positions.

Otte, of Iowa, was a great end in everything that pertains to his position but revealed defensive flaws in one or two games. Hubbard, of Centenary, 250 pounds, six feet-two and able to run the hundred under eleven seconds lacked only the opportunity of showing against a major opponent to get the highest possible rating.

Other great ends were Romey of Iowa, and Collins of Notre Dame. Barnes, of Chicago, was good and so was Hanson of Syracuse.

Lemon of Centre was a corker and so was Muhl of Illinois. Rokusek of Illinois was another crackerjack. Dilweg of Marquette, Keenan of Cornell, Henderson of Cornell and Drews of Princeton were extremely good, above the average.

Gowdy, of Chicago was not only heavily versed in all the phases of tackle play, an outstanding man in the strongest line in the conference, but in emergency he could be drafted to play other line positions.

Joss, of Yale was not only a finished player in all the requirements of his tackle position, but a very dangerous man when it came to receiving a forward pass. Strong, fast, versatile, there was no better tackle in the country than he.

Weir, of Nebraska, and Edwards, of Michigan, won the respect of every opponent they faced and might take places on any eleven. Other able tacklers were Hall, Illinois, Beuthel of Colgate, Hayman, Virginia, Beattie, Princeton, Hancock, Iowa and Cox, Minnesota.

The two veteran guards, Pondelick, of Chicago was a veteran—strong, fast, heady and untiring. He is one of the fine guards of all time. Another veteran, Slaughter, of Michigan, left nothing to be desired in any phase of play. His technical knowledge, the power and ferocity of his charging were always felt, not by one man, but by the entire side of an opposing line.

There were not too many splendid guards. Parsons of Northwestern was almost in the class of the two named for All America. Howard, of Princeton, was also excellent and so were Steel of Michigan, Bieberstein of Wisconsin, Pograss of Chicago, Joselove of Georgia Tech, and Farwick of Army.

LAWRENCE PERRY, whose stories on football and other sports are one of the features of the sporting pages of The Glendale Evening News, today announces his selection of first and second All America football elevens. Below are pictures of his choice for the first team. In an adjoining column is his story on his selections.

Best Center of All Time
Adam Walsh, the writer regards as the best center who ever stood on the gridiron. A heady man, he was deadly in defending against forward passes and in tackling. He passed flawlessly and was all over the field. Probst, of Alabama, was another center of the same sort, a gigantic man, who ranged with the speed of an end. Horrell, of California, will be picked by many. The writer did not see Horrell, but he cannot be better than Adam Walsh or Probst.

Garbisch, Army, Lovejoy, Yale, Lawrence, Auburn, Brown, Michigan and Kubale, Centre were other high class pivot men.

Greatest Tactician
For quarterback, Stuhldreher, was the greatest football tactician in the country, coaches not barred. His ability to diagnose a rival defense, his own ability to run and pass were marvelous and he is approached only by Parkin, who, in fact, equals the Notre Dame star in every respect but in uncanny intelligence. Dooley of Dartmouth, comes right after this pair. So is Covington of Centre, who would have won the position in any ordinary year. Then there was Hall of Illinois. And there were Bunnell of Yale, Cameron of Ohio State; Kelly, of Montana—a dazzling star—Pease of Columbia, Rockwell, Michigan, Lorber, Indiana, Graham, Minnesota; Edgar Jones, of Florida, another triple threat dazler.

Baker and Grange
Baker, of Northwestern, can do everything—and do it well—that a back ever did. There is no more finished a triple threat man in the country, nor one of more real, consistent value to an eleven.

Grange of Illinois, is not only the greatest back of the year but in every respect the greatest half back the writer has ever seen. His fame and exploits have been too widely sung to need further words.

Scotty of Georgia Tech, a 190-pound six footer, is a scoring full back, a man who is elusive in the open and deadly when he crashes into the line; a punter who drives far and places his kicks; a thrower of the ball in forward passes and a catcher of overhead heaves.

Many Good Backs
The season saw more good backs than have appeared in many a day. Oberlander of Dartmouth was a peach. Layden, of Notre Dame, was of All America calibre. So was Crowley, Fullback, of Rutgers, Ark Newton of Florida, Koppisch, of Columbia, Reese of Vanderbilt, Hubert of Alabama, Gordy, of Centre, Ludwig of Minnesota, Brown of Alabama, Thomas on and Nelson and Hatcher of Georgia, Nardacci, West Virginia; Maphis of Virginia, Karow of Ohio States, Graham of Minnesota, Bahr, Purdue; Harris, Wisconsin; Sloate, Indiana; Farley, West Virginia; Friedman, Michigan; Britton of Illinois; Young of California; Nevers and Hey of Stanford and Jabbs of California—all these backs would have found eager acceptance by the coaches of any team in the country.

Final Rehearsal Held Tomorrow on 'Messiah'

Final rehearsal for "The Messiah" will be held at 12:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles. At that time choruses, soloists and orchestra will join in final preparation for Handel's oratorio to be presented Tuesday night at Broadway High School. A rehearsal was held last night.

Motorists Uninjured As Cars Topple Over

William Harr of Los Angeles, escaped serious injury by a narrow margin at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when his car turned over at Grand View avenue and Kenneth road, following collision with a car driven by Francis L. Young of Anaheim. No one was hurt but both cars were badly damaged, according to a police report filed today.

BOWLING SCORES

The pillrollers from the Brown Bros. store outrolled the Psenner Bros. team in a Mercantile league match last night at the Recreation alleys. The Red Feathers dropped three games to the Glendale Bootery in another Mercantile league match. Caldwell of the Psenner Bros. was high score man for the night, shooting 268 in the second game. Linesmen Helper Will Recover From Voltage Wilford B. King of 419 West Vine street, linesman's helper who was restored to life Tuesday after receiving a 2300 volt shock at the North Howard street substation, is improving rapidly. The major burn in his right hand, where he grabbed the "hot" wire, is healing, reported his mother, Mrs. W. E. King, today, and no complications have developed from the contusions on his head and back, received in the fall.

Mr. King remembers nothing that happened during the twenty-five minutes he was unconscious, following the shock. All he recalls is struggling for breath, just before the valiant work of the fire and police department men brought him back.

Arrange Track Meet With Mid-West School

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—University of Southern California has completed arrangements for a track meet with a middle western college here in April. It was learned today. Nebraska was believed to be the school which had agreed to the meet. Definite announcement of the contest will be made as soon as a formal contract is signed.

Mohammedanism forbids the taking of interest on money.

BASEBALL

The Glendale K. C. team will play the second game of the winter schedule tomorrow afternoon at Irvine. The local Casey's cleaned up on their opponents last week, and are favored to cop tomorrow's contest. Other Casey games tomorrow are: Santa Ana at Pasadena, Long Beach at Manchester, Los Angeles and Hollywood at Belvedere Gardens.

Burbank meets Gene Murphys in a San Fernando Valley league game tomorrow at Burbank. Three teams are tied for second place in the loop, Burbank, Lankershim and Van Nuys fighting for honors. Lankershim plays at Van Nuys tomorrow. Zelzah, leading the league, meets Classy Hats at Zelzah. San Fernando plays at Owensmouth.

Charley Hill's Pacific Electric ballplayers will journey to Ventura for a game tomorrow.

Kid Latzo easily defeated Tillie Herman in the main event of the card at Hollywood American Legion stadium last night. Herman's style of fighting did not please the fans. Sammy Sandos won over Young Papke by virtue of a knockdown in the second round. Fred Cullen got the nod over Young George, the bout being the most thrilling event on the card. Danny Martin punched his way to victory over Bobby Herman in the last round. Jack Lewis got a technical knockout over Frankie Ray when the referee stopped the fight in the third round. Chief White Eagle was knocked out by Joe Risos. Young Danny slugged his way to victory over Kid Lombardo.

The American Nature association claims that not less than 25,000 American eagles have been killed in Alaska since 1917.

Beavers have become so numerous in some farming localities of western states that their destruction has been necessary.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondence of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The most successful era of endorsements in baseball history, inaugurated by the National association at its meeting in Hartford has been brought to a brilliant close. As the forecast Wednesday, the American league has added its little bouquet to the tributes prepared for High Commissioner of Baseball Landis by the National association at Hartford and the National league which held its meeting here Tuesday. Thus draws to a peaceful close a series of baseball meetings that gave promise of some hot battling.

The American league did not enter so fulsomely into the matter of endorsing Commissioner Landis and all his works as did the National association and the National league. There was neither inference nor intimation to be gathered from its enunciation. It was a straightforward testimonial to the administration and integrity of the Judge, of which qualities there never has been any doubt.

A direct compliment was paid the Judge when the American league members "reaffirmed their continued faith in his confidence and integrity." There was a very pronounced declaration of faith in the statement that the league believes that "the game's greatest security and safeguard for the future lie in the fullest co-operation between the two major leagues and Landis." There was a vote of confidence beyond question when the league pledged its "fullest and unqualified support and endorsement to Commissioner Landis in his methods of conduct and leadership of organized baseball."

A new departure was taken when the league appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Rupert, Barnard and Shibe to wait upon the Judge "to the end that full harmony may be restored and full co-operation obtained under the present agreement under which the major and minor leagues are now operating. "In other words the league is willing to talk it over with the Judge and see what he thinks. There is little doubt the Commissioner will make his thoughts plain when called upon.

When all is said and done, the resolution presented by Clark Griffith, and unanimously adopted, puts things back in the status quo before the rows arose in the baseball family. The only question outstanding now is whether President Johnson of the American league actually violated the spirit of the agreement in criticizing Judge Landis—the agreement banned public criticism, of or by the Judge—or whether Mr. Johnson merely criticized other persons, and results which may not have been attributed direct to Judge Landis.

The matter of gambling on the Pacific coast about which there had been much advance speculation, was not mentioned at the American league meeting. The impression left was that the league had decided to have nothing to do with that coast's "purity problem." The coast is pretty far away, and if Mr. Johnson wants to do anything about gambling out there, apparently he will have to take the problem to the coast direct.

There was no criticism of Mr. Johnson by his organization. It was said of him and his troubles that he had shown himself able to take care of himself in the past and that he probably could continue to do so.

The most important trade so far to develop out of the gathering of the clans here was the trade of McNally of the Yanks to Boston in exchange for Shanks. This gives the Boston club a third baseman better than any they had in 1924 and may help put their infield on the map next season. Miller Huggins of the Yanks indicated he had another deal of bigger proportions under way but declined to indicate whom he would give up or receive.

Fletcher took Dana Fillingim, the old Boston spitball pitcher, back into the major league fold from Beaumont. All O'Neills are good catches by right of birth and prove their ability by their work almost without exception.

Minor league suggestions about government of players were not taken up at the meeting here. They will be considered in joint session later.

The new directors are Ball of St. Louis, Navin of Detroit, Quinn of Boston and Col. Rupert of New York. Mr. Navin continues as vice-president of the league as usual.

GIBBONS LIKES TALK ABOUT WILLS GO

Tommy Is Likely to Meet Black Boy Before Dempsey Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—A possible bout between Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills, as a prelude to a championship shot at Dempsey's new profile, began cooking over a slow fire today. Several critics publicly "demanded" that Wills be granted the recognition his record merits. They expressed the hope that Gibbons would not merely talking to hear his teeth rattle, when he stated, upon his departure for the west several days ago, that he was willing to frolic with Wills, among others, and intimated that such a bout would clear the way to Dempsey like a tank tractor.

That Gibbons' six-round knockout of Kid Norfolk has prompted a revival in the cauliflower sport was also indicated by the fact that Luis Firpo, the well known human being, also stepped out with a challenge to Gibbons today. The senior inferred that Thomas would be his for the asking.

Gibbons Sincere
The writer wishes to make clear that of all the leading heavyweights, Gibbons is the most sincere. He said that he was ready to meet Wills. I will admit that he hasn't suffered a rush of promoters to the head, in consequence, but the fact remains that if Gibbons says he will fight Wills, they are as good as in the ring, provided the dark one is quiescent.

Our Mr. Rickard is strangely silent, however. There is a persistent idea along Broadway that Wills is to be kept out of the big sheets as much as possible and certainly, if Gibbons goes on to another match with Dempsey without first climbing over Wills, this belief will be tinged with a faint suggestion of fact. Gibbons-Wills bout would pile the customers in near-combat stacks.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The hope is that Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons will meet in the Madison Square Garden this winter in the first of the season's milk fund bouts.

Dempsey is said to have a financial interest in the Garden and even if he has not, it is said, he will go in on a suitable guarantee. He is indebted in many ways to the promoters of the milk shows through with a fight in behalf of the cause.

Dempsey has not fought in so long a time that the general belief is that Tommy will make him step quite some.

One thing is certain, Tommy Gibbons is no longer a true light heavyweight. He looked very drawn the night he met Kid Norfolk at 175 pounds and the chances are he would not wish to hazard making this division against a strong natural light heavy like Gene Tunney.

The fact is that Tommy looks to be right up in Dempsey's class, 180-190 pounds right now. That is to say he gave evidence that between these weights he will be at his best. His ferocity against Norfolk gave the fans a better idea of him than ever before they have had and there is no doubt he would be an attraction against the champion.

Colored Players May Be Used In Big Game

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—University of Southern California athletic authorities declined today to commit on whether negro players would be used in the game here Christmas day against the University of Missouri. Two of the Trojans' star players are negroes and have been used in every game the Californians have played this year. They are Brice Taylor, all-rounder guard and Johnny Riddle, halfback.

The toll from measles, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, pneumonia, influenza, and cancer decreased in the United States during 1923.

GRID CONFERENCE FOR COAST ENDS

H. C. Howe, University of Oregon, Elected President For Coming Season

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—Adjourned to meet in Seattle next week December 11, Pacific Coast conference representatives were today en route to their various institutions after two days of schedule making and attention to important conference business.

The Northwest conference met today for the first time, and it was likely the smaller colleges of the north would form a new conference, so that championships could be decided among schools of the same size and enrollment. Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Washington State and the Oregon Aggies may withdraw to open the way for the small colleges to organize.

The annual East-West game at Pasadena, New Year's day, was officially recognized, and the Coast conference approved the plan of having the graduate managers select the eastern representative prior to the opening of the football season. The coast team will be chosen on a percentage basis.

Cup Is Awarded
The Schwabacher cup, emblematic of the coast championship, will go to Stanford for the first six months of the coming year and California for the remaining six months. Professor H. C. Howe of the University of Oregon was elected president of the conference to succeed W. J. Laporte of Southern California.

No athlete may write newspaper articles on sports in which he is competing. Benefit for his college paper, the conference ruled. Stanford's offer to forfeit football games to Oregon, Idaho and Montana, due to the ineligibility of Cleveland, was turned down by the conference. The question of future freshman competition will be decided at the Seattle meeting.

Rumor was current today that the Northwest conference would re-open the eligibility case of Harry Reget, star Idaho quarterback. The Coast conference decided yesterday that Reget was eligible, but it is said the northern institutions withheld information they had concerning his status. It was learned that the information will be forthcoming in today's meeting.

Book Cabinet Given In Memory Of Woman

In memory of the late Mrs. W. W. Stofft, an oak book cabinet was presented Thursday night by the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle to the public library. The Reading Circle members, members of Mrs. Stofft's family and friends gathered in the juvenile room of the library for the presentation. On behalf of the circle Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, made acceptance by Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian. The cabinet bears a copper plate, made by Mr. Stofft and bearing the memorial inscription closing with "A tribute to her zeal for child welfare." Books of interest to mothers will be kept in the cabinet.

Tickets for Big Game New Year's Sell Fast

Thirty-four thousand tickets have been disposed of for the New Year's day game between Stanford and Notre Dame at Pasadena when the office took a slight dip at the books at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The capacity is several hundred over the 52,000 mark.

Tentative arrangements have been made to place 6000 bleacher seats in the south end of the Rose bowl if the demand for tickets exceeds the supply, and it looks to the Stanford committee in charge as if the regular seats will be sold out by next week.

Brooklyn Manager May Be Forced From Game

BALTIMORE, Dec. 13.—Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn club, may never don another baseball uniform. SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Jack Kearns with his own name in a leading L. A. morning paper jumps all over Tommy Gibbons for stealing his "thunder" as publicity getter. That's the best joke since Fred Fulton laid down in Culver City. A more insistent publicity hound than Jack Kearns never hit the sporting pages of American dailies. He should chide Mr. Gibbons for seeking publicity.

Jack Kearns must have inspired Dr. Frank Crane to knock off that editorial about the drum, clock and watch the other day. Dr. Crane said with a lot of common sense psychology that when the drum beat the clock and watch couldn't be heard. When the drum ceased only the clock was heard and not until both stopped beating could the watch be heard.

Jack Kearns has been the drum, not through his own efforts, but through the efforts of Mr. Jack Dempsey. Kearns didn't get a drum and dark corners back in what is left of the famous Barbary Coast in Frisco if it weren't for Jack Dempsey.

Tommy Gibbons has been the watch, ticking away every day but unheard because the drum has made all the noise. And because Tommy didn't get a drum and beat it along New York's Broadway, give wine parties and generally take the role of the so-called "good fellow," New York boxing critics have passed him up as "nobody" and Kearns seeks to belittle him.

Tommy Gibbons has had a hard up-hill row to hoe. Mr. Dempsey climbed into fame over the flabby, worn-out body of Mr. Jess Willard. And with him climbed Jack Kearns. Tommy had to make his watch speak louder than Kearns' drum.

Now, when in spite of the drum's roar, Tommy Gibbons stepped to the front and made his watch heard when he gave a thought to someone beside Tommy Gibbons and volunteered to fight that some of New York's poor might smile on Christmas. Mr. Kearns comes out with reams of words saying Gibbons is trading on Dempsey's name and a possible championship battle.

Only when the drums started beating over in France did Mr. Kearns drums suddenly cease. He and Mr. Dempsey adjourned to a navy yard and a picture of Jack in overalls and patent leather shoes was the only drum heard.

Those who live in glass bungalows, Mr. Kearns should keep their candles burning low.

Turn back to the pages of your diary, Mr. Kearns to a couple of days before Mr. Dempsey met Georges Carpentier at Boyle's farm. Your diary will tell you that just over three nights before the battle the famous Bal Tarbarin cabaret opened atop the Winter Garden in Little Old New York. You and Jack were there. So were Bee Palmer the shimmy dancer and Marguerite Clayton, Broncho Billy Anderson's leading woman when 2-reelers were features.

If you and Jack weren't looking for publicity, why were you there until early morning a few days before the big battle? It won't take a cross-word puzzle expert to solve that.

This is mentioned merely to prove that there are others looking for publicity besides Tommy Gibbons. Mr. Kearns and Mr. Dempsey got more than they bargained for out of the Bal Tarbarin opening. A few weeks later Mr. Dempsey was asked by Bee Palmer's husband, a jazz pianist, "how come" Jack and Bee were together so much. Also a little "loss of affections" money was asked.

Public is wondering just why Mr. Dempsey is permitted to be "engaged" to every movie star he speaks to. That's another good way of housing publicity. Mr. Kearns. Now he's stopped getting engaged to them—he's managing 'em.

If Tommy Gibbons has been approached by Tex Rickard for a match with Jack Dempsey he has a right to say so. Why does Mr. Kearns object? If Mr. Dempsey doesn't want to fight Mr. Gibbons, that's another matter.

While you have that little diary out don't forget Shelby, Mr. Kearns. And when you recall the gold mining town on a sizzling July Fourth a couple of years back, go further toward the back of your diary and remember your expression at the ringside at the Polo Grounds in New York when Mr. Firpo punched Jack outside four ropes. You find in your little book that Tommy stayed the limit with you Jack.

If you won't give Tommy Gibbons a fight for the love of Pete give him a chance to ask for it through the newspaper columns without blating like a schoolboy who has lost his slate, and accusing Gibbons of stealing your thunder.

Tommy Gibbons has as much right in the sports columns of the dailies as Jack Dempsey and Jack

SQUADS PREPARE FOR BASKETBALL

Central League Schedule Is Announced; Grid Season Hampers Cagemen

Owing to the prolonged football season at Glendale high the Dynamiters will be severely handicapped when the season starts January 16. Other schools in the Central league have been under way for several weeks and will be in tip-top condition by the first of the year. So far the only squad to get started before the holidays is the lightweight outfit. Both Class A and C teams will be unable to get anything done before New Year's.

Those out for lightweight basketball include Wilbur Harrison, Archie Neal, Dick Jones, "Boozie" Mitchell, Homer Seales and Read Stearns.

At the present time Coach Howard J. Butterfield is taking care of the Class B cage-men.

The following is the schedule for the Class A team:
January 15—Alhambra at Glendale; Citrus at Monrovia; Covina at South Pasadena.
January 22—Glendale at South Pasadena; Covina at Citrus; Monrovia at Alhambra.
January 29—Monrovia at Glendale; South Pasadena at Citrus; Alhambra at Covina.
February 6—Alhambra at Citrus; Glendale at Covina; Monrovia at South Pasadena.
February 13—Citrus at Glendale; South Pasadena at Alhambra; Covina at Monrovia.
Class B games are to be played the day preceding the Class A contests and the home team is reversed.

GRADUATES PLAY TO PACKED HOUSE

Glendale Class of '25 In Three One-Act Skits Make Big Hit

Packed houses at both performances greeted the students of the graduating class of Glendale Avenue school when they presented three one-act plays yesterday afternoon and evening on the stage of the auditorium. Over $200 was realized from the sale of tickets. The fund will go toward equipment fund. It was a creditable performance, well staged and costumed.

In "Ten Minutes by the Clock" humor and pathos were combined. The story tells of a young queen who tires of convention and tries to enjoy freedom. The scene is laid in the breakfast room of the palace. Cast included: Housemaid, Evelyn Murphy; queen, Betty Biggs; queen's page, Ruth Houle; gypsy, George Towne; Pompadour, Harold Loving; Dux and Dux, the lackeys to the king, Frank Arnold and John R. Patterson; the king, Nell Chrisman; Bitter-Batter, the cook, Bob Clewett.

Chinese Play
"The Invention of the Rat-trap," a humorous skit, with brilliant Chinese costumes and suitable stage setting, was like a cleverly portrayed. The scene was laid in the Imperial Palace in Peking in 1912 A. D. The characters were: Bing Bang Bing, Emperor, Leon LeClercq; Princess Chin Su, Eleanor Leitch; Tai Hi Su, Chancellor, George Ward; Prince How I Lie, Dale Hurlbutt; Demon Rat (Ah Sin, a Chinese God), Evelyn Thompson. The act closed with a song and dance by a group of girls in Chinese costumes. These included Leona Henry, Mary Channing, Joan Fairfield, Mary Goto, Edna Fischer, Wilma Rehak, Oneita Brown, Ruth Houle, Mildred Selder, Evelyn Murphy, Lois Deikman.

"Why Chimes Rang"
The last playlet on the program, "Why the Chimes Rang," differed widely from the others in character, and proved most entertaining, picturing in the closing scene, with excellent tableaux effects, the spirit of Christmas offerings. The scene was laid in a woodcutter's hut in a forest of long ago. Included in the cast were Holger, Edwin Ball; Steen, Varian Sloan; Bertel, their uncle, Robert E. Lee; an old woman, Dorothy Fisher; churchman, Lambert Brash; rich man, Gaylord Stolar; rich lady, Dorothy Brown; scholar, S. Kiyohisa; young girl, Shirley Otter; the king, George Peterson; the angel, Davina Wood.

The plays were directed by the class teachers, Misses Lorene Fritch and Helen Reynolds. Music was furnished by the school orchestra, directed by Miss Mildred Hughey.

LAWRENCE DERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—In the course of the recent Oregon-Oregon-Aggies game the Aggies pulled a play that has been causing a great deal of talk in the far west. When it was submitted to the writer he in turn placed it before some of the more prominent eastern and southern officials. There was a marked diversity of opinion and it seems clear that the rules committee will have to consider the problem and place their decision under the approved rulings in the football guide.

The play was as follows: The Aggies, coached by Paul Schislard, had the ball. The center passed it to the left guard who held it for a count of at least ten while the defense was vainly hunting for the ball carrier and the Aggies interferers were making fake dashes. Finally the right end came around behind and the guard passed the ball to him. He made a 35 yard run before tackled.

The referee seems to have been completely lost on the play but the umpire claimed it was illegal on the grounds that a player who receives the ball from the center is considered the carrier of the same.

Now some officials with whom the writer talks support the umpire, saying there is nothing in the rules that prescribes the guard from receiving the ball from center. As a matter of fact there is nothing in the rules that says that if the guard wished to move backward with the ball he would not even then be considered a ball carrier.

It is, of course, understood that the rules hold that any one may carry the ball, except the center and the two players on either side of him. Thus, were the guard upon receiving the ball from the center held by the referee to be the ball carrier a foul calling for a penalty would have been committed. The difference of opinion centers upon whether or not the guard really is a ball carrier.

Ed Thorpe, a prominent eastern football official, says that he would not consider the guard to be a ball carrier if he made no movement whatever. But if he even so much as moved his arms to pass the ball to another player he would then consider that he felt within the category of ball carrier and would inflict penalty.

Another play was perpetrated by New York City College against Fordham. Fordham sent a kick off over the goal. A city college player picked it up but did not touch it down. With the ball under his arm he walked slowly out into the field of play and then when the path was clear suddenly dashed for the Fordham goal.

The referee previously instructed about the play and requested not to blow his whistle unless the ball was actually touched down behind the goal—had no alternative to allowing the run to stand.

Probably the rules committee will see its way clear to making some stipulation concerning plays of the sort.
What is this talk that Stuhldreher, the Notre Dame quarterback never played football before he went to the South Bend institution? As a matter of fact he played at Kiski in the east and was a team mate with McMillan, captain elect of the Princeton team. In this connection there is a good story told of the two old teammates. In the Princeton-Notre Dame game Stuhldreher tried two forward passes, both of which were smeared. Upon each occasion McMillan gave Stuhldreher the laugh, saying that he was fast losing his reputation and had better quit the game right now so as to save what he had left. "Just for that," said Stuhldreher, "I'm going to take the ball ten yards through you." And he did forthwith.

Post 250 will hold another turkey shoot all day Sunday at the Begue ranch on East Michigan avenue, Tujunga. The boys are prepared with over 100 turkeys to distribute to winners on the 150-yard rifle range. Lunches can be had on the grounds from Auxiliary booths. A large number of Thanksgiving dinners were won by marksmen at the last shoot held by the Tujunga post. Pete Desjardin, peregrinant-farmer, has had the birds on a special fattening diet for three weeks, so they should look very appetizing.

U. S. To Oppose World Court Deciding Debt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The United States would oppose any efforts to refer to a world court reparation payments by Germany. It has been announced officially at the White House. Reports from London had indicated that this was one of the possibilities considered by the British government to settle the controversy between England and the United States over the apportionment of the reparations.

Joins Board

DR. JOHN ANDERSON, who became a member of the advisory board of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation this week.

The advisory board of the Gibraltar Finance corporation, 213 South Brand boulevard, was considerably strengthened this week by the addition of Dr. John Anderson, one of the leading physicians and surgeons in Glendale. Dr. Anderson's name was added to the list at a recent meeting of the organization.

For the past three years Dr. Anderson, who has offices at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and California avenue, has specialized in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and in his chosen line has built for himself an excellent reputation. His ability along the business line has been clearly demonstrated by the success he has attained.

Dr. Anderson was born in Troy, N. Y. He was graduated from the Mount Hermon, Mass., Northfield Preparatory school, and later took a four-year course in osteopathy in Los Angeles, receiving an "M. D." degree.

For three years he was associate instructor in eye, ear, nose and throat treatment in the Los Angeles college. After leaving school he practiced five years in Utah, and in the world war was made first lieutenant in the medical corps.

Dr. Anderson is a member of the Kiwanis club, Elks' lodge, Oakwood Country club, Malibu Lake club and the Presbyterian church. He has been a member of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. for three years and director of Community Service. He is vice-president of the Glendale Choral club. He was a member of the board of directors in the recent campaign for a Y. M. C. A. building. During the past year he has been a frequent speaker before the Parent-Teachers' associations in and around Glendale, and has addressed approximately 15,000 boys during his residence here.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN TWO-ACT PLAY

Pacific Avenue Pupils Do Santa Claus Sketch For Parents

"Who Helped Santa Claus?" was the title of the two-act play presented before parents and friends at the Pacific Avenue school yesterday afternoon, by pupils of the fifth and sixth grades. The children were in costume.

The first act was a street scene in which the Fairy chorus appeared. The second act was laid in the house of Santa Claus, with fairies, cooks, candy makers, toy makers, and wood cutters getting ready for Christmas. The woodcutters brought in a Christmas tree which was trimmed by the decorators. The Bylo babies appeared in a chorus at the close of the play.

Miss Hiederman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Laughlin, Miss Paup and Mrs. May trained the children. The food sale held in the court by the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association was a success.

Present Peace Prize In L. A. Next Month

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—Raphael Herman, wealthy Washington, D. C., donor of the $25,000 prize for the best suggestion for attaining universal peace, which was won by Dr. David Starr Jordan, has arrived in Los Angeles. He announced that the presentation of the prize would take place in Los Angeles in January. Although definite plans for the presentation have not been made, it is expected that Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover will be designated by President Coolidge to award the prize. A radio speech will be made by President Coolidge coincident with the event.

Dr. A. O. Thomas, William G. McAdoo, Dr. Robert Milliken, and Milton Macrae, members of the jury which decided the winner of the prize, are expected to speak. Prominent California educators will attend the event.

Brazil will erect in Mexico City a great bronze statue of the famous Brazilian poet, Gonvalves Diaz.

Grand View Services Attracting Attention

Interest in services held at the Grand View Community church is keen and attendance is steadily increasing. The prayer meeting service held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Buckman, 1141 Winchester street, was attended by twenty-seven people. The attendance at both the prayer meeting and Boy Scout meetings is increasing so that soon the meetings will have to be held at the schoolhouse. The junior choir is progressing under the direction of Mrs. Morgan. Rehearsals are being held at the home of Mrs. Buckman. The choir will make its first appearance at the church services Sunday. Rev. George W. Thomas is pastor.

"RADIUM JARS" (THOMAS)

The Revigator already has an American record that dispels all doubt as to its surprising value in the home

Many people who have "Radium Jars" on the Pacific Coast will read this announcement with consuming interest. It is a recognition of their sound judgment. Results decided the question originally with these people. Now we give the reason why.

These Thomas Radium Ore Lined Jars were manufactured by Mr. R. W. Thomas to whom great credit is due in the practical development of this science. Several thousands of these "Thomas Radium Jars" are doing daily service in Pacific Coast homes and because of the results obtained users call them "Jars of Life."

Ten years ago Mr. Thomas, an inventive genius, began his experiments. Two years ago he succeeded in permanently fusing radium ore to the walls of a stone vessel so that by allowing water to stand therein the water became revitalized with radio-activity or Natural Niton, the great health giving element found mostly in truly fresh spring water.

Government tests showed Mr. Thomas that his "Radium Jar" actually restored this element of radio-activity or Natural Niton to water. The peculiarity of radium and Niton ore is that the energy of the ore wall that he succeeded in fusing never ceases, for which reason a "Radium Jar" lasts a lifetime. The daily absorption by water of the tiny rays continuously thrown off by the radium ore makes this almost unbelievable fact possible.

Knowing that this element of radio-activity or Natural Niton was recognized as largely responsible for the marvelous cures effected at the world's most famous springs, including those owned by the U. S. Government at Hot Springs, Ark., Mr. Thomas set about to relieve the sick and afflicted by daily restoring this element to water by means of his "Radium Jar."

Naturally, there was skepticism. Results soon overcame this. The enthusiasm of users now is advertising what nothing but merit can purchase.

The growth of the business is also convincing. On merit alone, Mr. Thomas' business grew from two jars a month in 1922 to a point that now our Pacific Coast production is over 5000 monthly. There is a reason for such progress.

When the Dow-Herriman Pump & Machinery Company joined forces with Mr. Thomas several months ago, the original and conflicting German patents were purchased. Now the patent protection is complete. The reason why can now be told.

There is nothing unusual about radio-activity or Natural Niton. It is a gaseous element found in all truly fresh water at its source, but which almost entirely escapes from water pipes and bottles before water is drunk. The water of certain health springs such as Hot Springs, Ark., contain the highest percentage of this element found in Nature and the miraculous relief is effected because people drink the element at the spring before it escapes from water. It is for this reason that the Government has stated that no matter how much of this element is contained in water when bottled at the spring, it soon escapes from those bottles.

To those who make a study of the processes of Nature, the surprisingly favorable results of the "Radium Jar" in ailments are no more wonderful than the immunity enjoyed by families through its use from many ailments to which mankind is heir, for these observations both indicate that the proper function of Nature is definitely handicapped by the loss of this natural element from our daily water supply.

The "Revigator" is the new name for the Thomas "Radium Jar." It enjoys this name from the fact that it actually revigorates or revitalizes drinking water. Do not confuse it with a drug or medicine. The "Revigator" is a lifetime apparatus for the home that daily corrects drinking water. It uses the very process that Nature originally employs in creating radio-activity far deep in the bosom of the earth, namely, by simple contact of radium rays.

The gist of the "Radium Jar" (Revigator) success is that by affording the body its normal supply of this natural element of water, Nature is better armed to function properly; but without the natural supply of this vital element her handicap is greater than one could realize without taking a little time to look into the subject.

CHAPTER LXIV

"I suppose you will admit," she said, "that circumstances alter cases. What do you think, for instance, of Otto persuading me to run away with him the day before we were to be married, by telling me something about you when you were in Berlin which I afterwards found to be an utter falsehood?"

"That was a contemptible action," he acknowledged, "but—"

He paused significantly. She half closed her eyes.

"Yes, I know," she confessed drearily. "I was just as much to blame. More so, perhaps—but how I have suffered for it!"

He lowered his voice.

"Your husband," he warned her, "seldom takes his eyes from us. Blunn, too, watches. We must speak of other things."

"It is always like that," she muttered under her breath. "Eyes seem to follow me everywhere. Ears are listening next few days that in Berlin. Everybody seems to have espionage on the brain."

Suddenly they all had a surprise. Blunn rose to his feet. His action was so unexpected that they all stared at him. He beamed around at their expectant faces. He had the trick of smiling at a score of people so that each one thought the smile specially intended for him.

"My dear friends," he began. "Have no fear. This is not a speech. This is merely the expression of a quaint desire which has just come into my mind to express my joy and pride that, tonight, amongst all of you dear people who have come at my bidding, there has come one who, I think, within the next few days or weeks, will be acknowledged the greatest beneficent statesman of this generation. I am referring, of course, to Lord Yeovil."

Every one smiled. The idea, even the words, were still, from an ordinary point of view, curiously out of place. Yet, spoken by Blunn, just as he spoke them, they seemed natural and reasonable.

"I will tell you what Lord Yeovil has done," he went on. "He has had the courage of a great man. He has braved possible opposition and opposition to the chairman of the Pact of Nations can only mean one thing, where the personal dignity of that functionary is concerned. He has, I say, braved opposition and he has pointed out to all of us the weak link in the chain of our hope for eternal peace. I mean the standing out of your great country, sir," he added, bowing to Slattery, "the United States of America, from the Pact of Nations. Some of us have felt that by her repeated refusals she did not deserve any further invitations. Some of us have selfishly felt that we, ourselves, are in a better position for her being outside of it. Lord Yeovil swept aside all these pettinesses. He spoke to us as only a great man speaks. He saw the truth, and he made us see it. We ratified that invitation. I ask you to drink to the health of Lord Yeovil with me. There is no other statesman living today who could have done this great thing. I am a proud man that he sits at this table. I only ask you to forgive the unsavory impulse which has prompted me to make this public apology. For, behind my words, you will guess the truth—that I was one of those who hesitated. That is finished. I am a man convinced. I do homage to a greater brain. My dear friends—I don't say 'Ladies and Gentlemen'—let us drink to Lord Yeovil."

"Amazing!" Grant murmured, with genuine admiration in his tone.

Lord Yeovil, whose face was as still as the face of a graven image, raised his glass. He took the only means possible of showing his opinion of his host's action. He remained seated.

"My friends," he said, "any reply of mine to our host's kindly words would give undue significance to his friendly outpourings, and would invest a few remarks, spoken at a private dinner, with a semi-official significance. I think that what we have all done together is a great and a good thing. I should have liked every representative who was present at Nice to have thought the same. Those three anonymous dissentients, whose votes were recorded against me, still rankle just a little. However, the thing is accomplished. I thank you, Mr. Blunn, for your appreciation, and I thank you more especially still for the most wonderful entertainment at which I have been privileged to assist. There is one thing, however, which, at the present moment, seems of more vital importance to me, and I am sure, to all of us, than any unexpected and unofficial discussion of a political matter. We should all be made supremely happy if Mademoiselle Lebrun would sing to us once more."

There was a gleam of admiration for a moment in Blunn's eyes. He was just the man to appreciate the aptness which had minimized as far as possible the importance of his pronouncement. He despatched an emissary at once for the famous soprano.

"When Mademoiselle has sung," he announced, "His Majesty has asked permission to retire to the Rooms."

The King smiled.

DOUBINSON PLAYERS

"Only 33" will be presented again tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club by the Doubinson Players, the curtain rising at 8:15 o'clock. The play was written by A. E. Thomas, one of the most popular dramatists in America, and deals with the lighter aspects of college life. It is noted for its comedy situations and clever characterization. Included in the exceptional cast of "Only 33" are Gertrude Keller, Olaf Hytten, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, William H. Stephens, Thyra Ruhland, Gertrude Rothe, Richard Ehlers and George C. Pearce. Among some of the Glendadians appearing in the college scene are Helen Anderson, Winifred Anderson, Edwina Rothe, Harry Glazier, Maurice Widdows, and Harold Treffry.

THE GATEWAY

"Forbidden Paradise," due at the Gateway theatre for a run of three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is the first American-made Paramount production starring Pola Negri to be directed by Ernst Lubitsch, who made "Passion," "The Marriage Circle," etc., and who was the first to discover the real genius of the fiery Pola.

The story is an adaptation by Agnes Christine Johnston and Hans Kraly of the popular stage success, "The Czarina," by Lajos Biro and Menyhert Lengyel.

As the Czarina, ruler of a small Balkan kingdom, with no will save her own to question her acts, Pola amuses herself by a series of affairs with the men of her court.

Discontent grows among the officers of her army, and the seeds of rebellion are discovered by a young officer. This role is played by Rod La Rocque.

Refusing to join the rebellion, La Rocque escapes a plot to kill him, and rides three horses to death in an effort to reach the capital and warn the queen he adores.

On his arrival at the castle, he is frustrated in his attempt to see the queen by the chancellor, played by Adolphe Menjou. The queen hears the noise and comes out to see what is wrong. She is immediately attracted by the handsome officer, who shows, so plainly, the effects of his devotion to herself. Under the guise of queenly interest in his story, she begins to play the arts which are old as the first woman in her efforts to change his respect into infatuation.

Dazzled, La Rocque is torn between love for the queen and love for Anna, a lady-in-waiting, played by Pauline Starke.

For a time the queen's arts win, but, eventually, La Rocque discovers that several other young men at court have shared the queen's favors. Maddened with shame, he joins the revolutionaries and seeks to destroy the throne he once supported so ardently.

At this point in the story there begins a battle of wits between Menjou, as the chancellor, and the rebellious army leader, which creates tremendous suspense.

The tottering throne with an indignant queen on one hand and on the other the advancing army, angered to the point of rebellion, form the basis upon which a love story is founded which surpasses anything Pola Negri has yet portrayed.

Uncle Wiggly called the muskrat lady housekeeper of the rabbit gentleman to him in the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Find what in the oven?" asked the bunny. "And where are you going?" he wanted to know, for he saw that Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy had on her bonnet and shawl.

"I am going down to the five and six cent store to buy a new piano," answered the muskrat lady.

"You can't buy a piano at the five and six cent store, nor yet at the five and ten!" laughed Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, yes you can," answered Nurse Jane, shaking her tail at him. "You buy one key at a time and in about a year you have a piano. Of course, you must put it together after you get the keys and other parts home, but that's easy."

"Oh, yes, of course," said Mr. Longears. "But what shall I find in the oven?" You haven't told me that yet."

"It's a rice pudding," answered Nurse Jane. "I made it and it is baking in the oven. It will be done in about an hour and you may take it out. Wait until it cools and eat it for lunch, as I shall not be back."

"All right, but don't hurry," said Uncle Wiggly kindly. "Take your time and pick out good keys for the piano. I'll take the rice pudding from the oven when noon comes."

Away scrambled Nurse Jane, and Uncle Wiggly sat down to twinkle his pink nose. Then he felt lonesome so he called on the telephone to Uncle Butter, the goat.

"Skip over and have lunch with me," invited the bunny. "There's a hot rice pudding in the oven."

"I'll come," bleated Uncle Butter and soon he was at the bungalow.

Uncle Wiggly took the hot, brown rice pudding from the oven and set it on the table to cool. Then Uncle Butter looked out the window and said:

"I didn't know you had invited other company to lunch, Uncle Wiggly?"

"I haven't invited any one but you," spoke the rabbit.

"Well, the Bob Cat is outside," answered the goat, and then, all of a sudden, in popped the bad chap, for Uncle Wiggly had forgotten to lock the door after letting in Uncle Butter.

"Here I am! Here I am!" yowled the Bob Cat. "I want ears to nibble. What's that?" he asked, pointing to the table.

"Rice pudding," answered the rabbit uncle. "But don't take it."

"Ha hum! I guess I'll take it if I want to!" snarled the Bob Cat. "I'll do as I please! I love rice pudding!"

With that he most impolitely stuck one paw in the pan of rice pudding, hot from the oven, and the next minute that Bob Cat gave such a howl as never was heard before.

"Goopie! Goopie!" he yowled, dancing around on his hind legs and trying to cool his burned paw by holding it in his mouth.

"Goopie! Goopie!" he snarled. "Snoopie! Snoopie!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. Then when the Bob Cat ran away to find some ice water in which to cool his hot paw, the bunny and goat gen-

Orange Trees
4-room modern, unusually massive and artistic stone house. Price $4000.

5-room house, same construction, with living room 14x24, other rooms in proportion for $5000.

These most desirable low-priced homes are near a well-traveled highway and soil as good as there is in the state of Calif.

These places are easily worth $2000 more than prices asked. Values and desirability cannot be appreciated without seeing these properties. Cash and monthly payments required are surprisingly low to responsible home-seekers.

We show you, and you be the Judge, but hurry! Because some one is going to get these homes soon.

1 1/4 Acres
Orange Trees
4-room modern, unusually massive and artistic stone house. Price $4000.

5-room house, same construction, with living room 14x24, other rooms in proportion for $5000.

These most desirable low-priced homes are near a well-traveled highway and soil as good as there is in the state of Calif.

These places are easily worth $2000 more than prices asked. Values and desirability cannot be appreciated without seeing these properties. Cash and monthly payments required are surprisingly low to responsible home-seekers.

We show you, and you be the Judge, but hurry! Because some one is going to get these homes soon.

advancement and progress which has attended the clergyman's efforts. Property valued at $20,000 is now owned by the congregation.

Building of Church
Some months ago, when the erection of the new church was commenced, Rev. Scheideman donated a pair of overalls and took personal charge of the construction work. Throughout the weeks that the building has been under way, he has worked unceasingly on the structure.

The new church is 30 by 80 feet and has a seating capacity of 240. There is a main auditorium 30 by 68 feet, large Sunday school quarters in the rear and two other smaller rooms. The main auditorium is finished in oak, with stained glass windows. The sanctuary cove is decorated to represent the Holy Spirit hovering over the troubled waters in the form of a cloud. On the left is a cross and on the right a crown. Between is inscribed, "Holiness Becometh Thine House O Lord Forever." The scheme is intended to typify that through the cross and holiness the crown of reward is won.

On and after tomorrow evangelistic services which have been going on at the old church will be held in the new building. Rev. Scheideman announced. The services are in charge of Evangelist Fred St. Clair from Georgia. Rev. St. Clair will preach at the morning service tomorrow.

Upholstering Factory Is Rushed With Orders

From factory to consumer is the plan carried out by the Glendale Upholstering & Decorating Co., 213 South Brand boulevard, a firm that has been established only two months and already is working nights to keep up with orders. Robert Pierson and Bart Delacourt are the members of the firm. Mr. Pierson has been in Burbank fifteen years and followed the upholstery business all his life. Mr. Delacourt arrived recently from the east and has also followed this line of work all his life. Wrought iron lamps and shades are part of the stock.
